

BACK TO HIS CELL GOES REV. HINSHAW

After Hearing Evidence Gov. Hanly
Orders Preacher Convict, Once
Paroled, to Prison

TESTIMONY PROVES HE WRECKED HOME

Indianapolis, Nov. 9.—Governor Hanly today ordered Rev. William E. Hinshaw back to the penitentiary at Michigan City to again enter upon the serving of his life sentence for the murder of his wife.

This sensational denouement of the amazing charges brought against Hinshaw by Sheriff-elect Freeman, of Wabash, who alleges that the preacher-convict had ruined his home, came after a hearing of the evidence today by Governor Hanly.

At 10:30 o'clock this morning Deputy Sheriff C. V. Martin, of Wabash county, took Hinshaw, who had been rearrested yesterday near Lynn, Randolph county, before Governor Hanly.

Will Be Taken at Once.

Governor Hanly ordered Hinshaw to be kept in the Marion county jail tonight and that he be taken to prison tomorrow.

The decision of the governor came with unexpected suddenness, owing to the complete confession of Hinshaw this afternoon. In the hearing this afternoon he made a clean breast of the whole matter with reference to Mrs. Freeman. He admitted that he had improper relations with her at Shirley, as Freeman had charged, and as Mrs. Freeman had confessed.

The two were accompanied by J. B. Hinshaw, of Winchester, a brother of the accused man; R. C. Carter, of Lynn, whose wife is Mrs. Freeman's sister, and whom Mrs. Freeman visited when the alleged misconduct between Hinshaw and Mrs. Freeman occurred, and John S. Duncan, of this city, who has been retained as Hinshaw's attorney.

Have Affidavits as Proof.

George Freeman was present at the hearing, together with his attorney, John W. Milner, of Wabash. Milner was said to have with him affidavits of the livery man and the hotel keeper at Shirley, where Hinshaw and Mrs. Freeman are alleged to have spent the night. A general denial seemed to be the line that Hinshaw and his attorney would follow.

Hinshaw would not discuss the case today before going to the governor's office. "I am acting under instructions from my attorney," he said. "If you were in my place you would not want to say anything, would you?" he asked. "I have absolutely refused to discuss the case with any one. I will tell my story to Governor Hanly at the hearing and before that I will tell it to no one."

At the request of John Duncan, attorney for Hinshaw, the investigation was conducted by Governor Hanly behind closed doors. There were present a dozen or more witnesses.

Paroled on Previous Charge.

One of Hinshaw's early visitors at the jail this morning was Special Agent J. E. Hanly, of the Michigan City penitentiary, who looks after regularly paroled prisoners.

Union B. Hunt, railroad commissioner, Hinshaw's friend during his imprisonment; J. E. Hinshaw, of Winchester, the prisoner's brother, and R. C. Carter, of Lynn, Mrs. Freeman's brother-in-law, arrived at the jail and held a consultation with Hinshaw. When they came down they brought Hinshaw with them, as Deputy Sheriff Martin was waiting down stairs.

The party then went to the office of Governor Hanly in the state house and the secret investigation began.

Five Witnesses Examined.

Five witnesses from Shirley were examined, and Hinshaw's brother, George Freeman, the complainant, and Mr. Carter took the stand. The charges were repeated. Hinshaw himself then took the stand. He admitted corresponding with Mrs. Freeman, he admitted meeting her by appointment, he admitted that they had gone to the hotel at Shirley and had gone driving day time and at night as charged, but denied any improper relations.

A recess was taken till 1:30 o'clock when Hinshaw's testimony will be completed and the arguments will be made by Attorneys Milner and Duncan.

At this point a recess was taken, with the understanding that the hearing would be resumed at once after lunch.

Hanly Gives Decision.

Following the completion of Hinshaw's evidence after recess and the arguments of counsel, Governor Hanly ordered that Hinshaw be returned to the state prison at Michigan City to continue serving his sentence of imprisonment for life for the murder of his wife.

While the investigation which resulted in Hinshaw being sent back to prison for life was in secret from witnesses it was learned that four of the five witnesses that Milner had brought to substantiate his case were called: Frank and George Shaw, who own a livery stable at Shirley; Levi J. Cook, the hotel keeper at Shirley. A fifth witness, Clifford Hunt, was not called until later.

Shaw Brother's Story.

It is understood that the Shaw brothers testified that they knew Hinshaw and that he got a buggy from their barn the afternoon of June 9 last; that he told one of them to drive the buggy down the street a ways for he was going to take a woman with him.

One of them testified that he called Hinshaw by name, and Hinshaw corrected him, saying that his name was Brown; that he had often been taken for Hinshaw, however. The witness responded that "Hinshaw could not fool him" as the witness knew who he was.

Two of the Shaw boys—Frank and George—testified that later in the afternoon they saw Hinshaw with a woman and a child driving along the road near Shirley and as one brother said, that the woman and Hinshaw seemed "to be enjoying themselves."

"What do you mean by that?" Mr. Milner asked.

Was Hugging and Making Love.

"Well, Hinshaw was hugging the woman and making love to her," was the response. This testimony is said to have been substantiated by the other brother.

They came in from the ride about

LOOK-OUT CLUB IS NOW INCORPORATED

SUCCEEDS OLD WEST LAKE FISHING ORGANIZATION.

Building Club House at Lake James —Will Aid in Enforcement of Fish and Game Laws.

The Look-Out club, an organization of Fort Wayne men formed as the successor of the old West Lake Fishing club, filed its articles of incorporation today through Attorney A. E. Thomas with a capital stock of $2,500. The declared purpose of the club is to supply means of recreation and opportunity for members to engage in sports and pastimes, particularly angling and hunting, and to promote the enforcement of all laws relating to such sports.

The Look-Out club has purchased land at Lake James, near Angola, and has a club house nearing completion there at a cost of $2,000. Henry A. Wiese is president; George W. Grafe, vice president; John C. Helmekamp, secretary, and Dan Rehm, treasurer, with Peter Henkenius, Ferdinand Meier and Cornelius G. Cooper as trustees. Other members who signed the articles of incorporation are: M. L. Jones, Fred H. Ranko, Charles E. Knothe, S. M. Alexander, Oswald E. Brueckner, William F. Myers, G. A. Patterson and A. I. Hattersley.

STAR WITNESS IN GRAFT TRIAL IS SHOT

Philadelphia Civil Engineer, Mixed in the Waterworks Scandal, Shot by an Accusing Husband.

Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—Frederick Schaffhauser, civil engineer in the bureau of water of this city was shot and probably fatally wounded while at work on the seventh floor of the city hall today by Frederick Hornberger, a fireman at one of the city pumping stations. The shooting was sensational and at first it was believed to have been the result of politics, but later it developed the attempted murder was the outcome of domestic affairs. Schaffhauser for the last year has been much in the public eye, principally as a star witness in the criminal proceedings against John W. Hill, formerly head of the bureau of filtration.

Schaffhauser was called from his office to the corridor of the seventh floor today on the pretense that a friend wished to see him. He was met by Hornberger, who shouted: "You have killed my wife, and I am going to kill you." He had not finished the sentences when he began firing at Schaffhauser.

Hornberger shot five times and two of the bullets took effect. The victim fell and Hornberger started to walk away, but was intercepted and held by eye witnesses to the shooting until placed under arrest. In the central police station Hornberger told the police that Schaffhauser had been intimate with his wife and that her relations with him resulted in her death recently from disease.

Schaffhauser was removed to a hospital in which his condition was found to be so critical that the physician sent for a magistrate to take his ante-mortem statement.

The shooting created considerable excitement among political leaders and others interested in the reform movement in Philadelphia, who hurried to the city hall when they heard of the shooting, expecting to hear of some political development.

FIVE INCENDIARY FIRES IN GOTHAM

One Man Dead and Another Dying as Result of Fire-bug's Work.

FLAT BUILDINGS BURN

Two Thousand Occupants Driven Panic Stricken at Night Into Streets.

New York, Nov. 9.—One woman is dead, a man in a hospital suffering from severe burns, 2,000 persons fled from their homes in panic and thousands more passed a sleepless night, as a result of a series of incendiary fires in the two blocks bounded by Sixtieth and Sixty-first streets and Columbus and West End avenues early today.

Scores of persons whose lives were endangered by the conflagration were rescued by firemen.

In all there were five fires, every one of them incendiary, between midnight and 2 o'clock this morning. The woman who lost her life was Mrs. Caroline Swain, 70 years old. She lived at 107 Sixtieth street, adjoining one of the buildings which was fired. She died from heart failure induced by fright.

Adrian Tompkins, in a hospital with his hands and feet severely burned, as a result of climbing down a red hot fire escape, is in a serious condition.

High Pitch of Excitement.

The rapidly succeeding fires, the crowds of evicted tenants and the terrifying rumors spread through the neighborhood with the constant appearance and reappearance of the fire engines, and the big squad of police, raised the people throughout the vicinity to a high pitch of excitement, which did not lessen until daylight brought a measure of assurance that the incendiarism was stopped for a while. The excitement spread even to Broadway, and in the Marie Antoinette, Astoria, Empire and other big hotels in the neighborhood of Lincoln square, the guests were aroused by the commotion. In St. Paul hotel, at the southwest corner of Sixty-first and Columbus avenue, and the hotel Hudson, at Sixty-second street, both close to the fires, all the guests were aroused and few slept any more.

All Were Flat Houses.

All the houses where the fires occurred were flat houses. Three of them were occupied by whites and two by negroes. Most of the tenants were in bed when the fires broke out, and escaped to the streets in the scantiest clothing.

The first fire was in a five story tenement house at 105 West Sixtieth street occupied by five families, all of whom escaped. Mrs. Caroline Swain, the woman whose death was induced by fright, lived in the adjoining house and had been taken by her daughter to a window in preparation for flight from the house when she collapsed and died.

The women were still busy fighting that fire when the second blaze began at 137 West Sixtieth street, in a lot of rubbish in the basement. All the tenants escaped.

Several Narrow Escapes.

At the third fire at 215 West Sixtieth street there were several narrow escapes and daring rescues of the tenants. William Murray, who lived on the third floor, carried out five of his children, and James Smith, a spectator, went into the house and brought the Sixth Murray child down to the second floor window and jumped with it as his arms to the sidewalk.

Another spectator caught them both. The child was unhurt. An aged negro was carried out by other spectators.

An hour later the fourth fire was discovered a block north at 249 West Sixty-first street. It was quickly extinguished.

The fifth and worst of the fires was discovered at 110 West Sixty-first street at 3 a. m., while the street was

ARGUE DEMURRERS OF THE RAILWAY

PENNSYLVANIA'S CASE HEARD IN BUFFALO COURT.

Charge of Rebating Standard Oil Company Answered by Assertion That It Was Not Interstate.

Buffalo, Nov. 9.—In the argument yesterday in the United States court on the demurrors of the Pennsylvania railroad to indictment charging them with collusion with the Standard Oil company in the shipment of oil from Olean, N. Y., to Rutland, Vt., counsel for the New York Central road contended that in carrying oil from Rochester to its terminal at Norwood, it was doing an interstate and not an interstate business and had not therefore violated the interstate commerce law.

The ultimate destination of the shipment or the point from which it started had nothing to do with the case. He said that the law did not require and could not require that in interstate shipments the railroad should file a schedule of rates with the interstate commerce commission. He said there was nothing to show that an agreement had been entered into with the Pennsylvania or other railroads in carrying oil from Olean to Rutland, via the New York Central.

Insists It Is Interstate.

In reply counsel argued that shipments from one state to another state constituted interstate commerce and that in carrying such shipment, even if its share of it was wholly in one state, the New York Central was doing an interstate business. He also said that the indictment alleged facts to show that the oil company and the railroad were in collusion.

Counsel for the Pennsylvania railroad said that summoned down the proposition would be that a railroad company could not join in making different rates over different lines between the same terminal.

United States Attorney Brown, in reply, said that you cannot publish a certain rate between the two points and carry the same product over different routes between the same points at different rates.

LAWYERS LOOKING UP THE PROSPECT

QUESTION OF VOTE RECOUNT IS NOT YET SETTLED.

Attorneys Securing Summary of Protested Ballots from Tuesday's Election.

In anticipation of the possible demand for a recount of votes from Tuesday's election in the case of the circuit judgeship where Edward O'Rourke has a plurality of 84 over John Morris, attorneys for both republicans and democrats were today securing a summary of the protested ballots as disclosed by endorsement upon the tally papers.

For the republicans this work was performed by Harry Hogan and H. L. Townsend, while looking after the democratic interests were W. S. O'Rourke and John Eggeman. It is stated that friends of Mr. Morris have not yet determined what action to take in the matter, if any, though a conference was held yesterday afternoon. It is contended by friends of Judge O'Rourke that if all the protested ballots which could possibly prove admissible were given to Mr. Morris, he would still be short of a plurality and the result would not be changed.

NOT UP TO STANDARD.

Quality of City Milk Not as Good as in August.

The first test of the city milk supply since August was being made in the office of the secretary of the city board of health today and all of twelve samples out of thirty-seven fell way below the usual standard.

The department will take the matter up with the dairymen and make frequent tests until the high standard maintained for several years has been restored.

MEETS A VIOLENT DEATH AT DELPHI

James Sullivan's Body Was Found Beside Railway Tracks.

HEAD WAS SEVERED

Remarks Made By Fort Wayne Man Lead to Belief That He Committed Suicide.

Delphi, Ind., Nov. 9.—James Sullivan, 30 years old, was found at an early hour today lying alongside the Wabash railway track near this city, with his head cut off. Sullivan was employed with the construction crew of the Lafayette and Logansport traction line. His brother is one of the contractors. Yesterday Sullivan told his fellow-workmen that he would have to lay off today and that if anything happened to him he wanted his mother to have his watch. It is the belief that he committed suicide.

WAS A FORT WAYNE MAN.

Sullivan was a Fort Wayne man and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew P. Sullivan, residing at Calhoun street and Rudisill avenue. The father is a Wabash railroad engineer, and news of the son's death reached the family shortly after midnight. Mr. Sullivan left as quickly as possible for Delphi and will accompany the remains to this city.

The young man was 25 years of age and had resided in Fort Wayne nearly his entire life. He was employed by his father and brother, who are grading contractors under the firm name of A. P. Sullivan & Son, and who have a contract for grading a portion of the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company's trolley line extension from Logansport to Lafayette. He had been engaged on the work near Delphi for about four weeks. He was unmarried, and is survived by the parents, two brothers and three sisters.

MORE THAN DOZEN WORKMEN KILLED

FRANK OF HUGE HOTEL AT LONG BEACH, CAL., COLLAPSES.

Carries Down a Score or More of Men and the Death List Will Be Very Heavy.

Long Beach, Cal., Nov. 9.—The huge Bixby hotel in course of construction in the beach collapsed without warning today, supposedly as the result of faulty construction. Between twelve and fifteen workmen were killed and more than a score of others were seriously, several of them probably fatally hurt.

The building was of reinforced concrete and the men were crushed to death beneath tons of mortar. Only two of the dead had been taken out an hour after accident. Upwards of twenty injured had been removed to the Long Beach hospital, which soon was filled to overflowing. Upwards of fifteen workmen are believed to be still buried in the debris.

The hotel Bixby which has been under course of construction for several months, was to have been one of the best appointed hotels in the southern coast. The total cost of the building was estimated at $750,000.

CUT END OFF THUMB.

Billy Longfield cut the end off the thumb of his left hand today while he was cutting wood with a hatchet. Nearly the first phalanx was severed. He is well known as the manager for several seasons of the Fort Wayne Blues, a semi-professional ball team.

DEEP LAID PLOT TO MURDER WOMAN

Details of Baden Baden Crime Have Bad Look for Lawyer Hau, of Washington, D. C.

HOW WOMAN WAS LURED TO HER DEATH

Baden Baden, Germany, Nov. 9.—Karl Hau, alias Stau, the lawyer of Washington, D. C., who was arrested in London yesterday and held for extradition, is wanted by the local police on the charge of murdering his wife's mother, Frau Molitor. The motive of the alleged crime appears to have been the insane greed of money.

Frau Molitor, who was wealthy, refused many times to comply with Hau's request for money, having given her daughter a considerable dowry and arranged that she should inherit part of her fortune.

When Hau married Lena Molitor, six years ago, she was twenty-five years of age, and Hau, a student, was nineteen. Their engagement seemingly was against Frau Molitor's wish. Immediately after their marriage the couple went to America and Hau attained a good position in Washington as a lawyer. Hau, his wife and their daughter, three years old, came to Germany last summer to visit Frau Molitor. Mrs. Hau and the child stayed several months at the villa Molitor.

Sought to Entice Woman to Paris.

Hau arrived there later via Constantinople. Visitors to the villa observed that the best of relationship did not exist between the Haus and Frau Molitor. A fortnight ago, Hau left Baden Baden to return to America and his relatives though he was either on board ship or had already arrived in the United States. Hau it is claimed, some days after he left Baden Baden, sent Frau Molitor a fake cablegram dated Paris asking her to go and see their married daughter there. The falsification was discovered and the inquiries of the postal authorities with a view of discovering the identity of the sender of the message were still going on when the murder was committed.

Lured to Her Death.

During the evening of November 6 Frau Molitor received a telephone message at her home in Baden Baden asking her to go to the postoffice and get a parcel which had reached there for her. Frau Molitor, accompanied by a younger daughter, started at once for the postoffice and while passing through the quiet street she was shot from behind and fell dead with a bullet through her heart. The man who committed the murder was described as being of medium height and seemingly under forty years old. He wore a beard, but it is stated that it was a false one. The police believe the murderer was the man who called up Frau Molitor on the telephone.

The telephone message which induced Frau Molitor to go to her death was received by a servant of the household who says she thought she recognized Hau's voice and so informed her mistress, but the latter insisted on going to the postoffice.

How Clue Was Obtained.

Hau, after leaving Baden Baden, sent his wife and child to London and stopped at Frankfurt, where he attracted attention owing to a long beard which he wore. This, however, is now asserted to have been purchased from a hair dresser at Frankfurt. The day of the murder Hau left Frankfurt at 11 o'clock in the morning on the Baden train and returned to Frankfurt at 10 o'clock the same evening. After his arrival there, he sent the following telegram to his wife at the hotel: "Arrive tomorrow night. Don't betray address."

This telegram gave the police a clue to the identity of the murderer and they promptly notified the London police. Hau's arrest followed.

It is asserted here that Frau Molitor had long been threatened and she was aware that deep laid plots had been made against her life, and it is believed that the summoning of Frau Molitor to Paris was part of a plot to murder her, which miscarried.

LONDON HAS NO DETAILS.

Hau Reached London November 7—Wife Will See No One.

London, Nov. 9.—Neither the police nor the German embassy here has received any information respecting the murder at Baden Baden for which Karl Hau, the Washington lawyer, is detained here, beyond the original cable dispatch from Germany requesting his arrest.

The message was very brief, simply asking the London police to arrest a man named Hau, a native of Bern Castle, Germany, whose present address is Washington, D. C., and who is wanted for murder.

Hau arrived at the hotel Cecil during the evening of November 7. Unofficial dispatches from Baden Baden appear to indicate that the murder was committed November 6. Mrs. Hau continues to deny herself to all callers and declines to receive even written communications.

GIVES HAU GOOD CHARACTER.

President of University, Washington, Thinks Him Innocent.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Dr. Charles W. Needham, president of the George Washington university, in common with many other friends of Karl Hau, who is charged with murdering his mother-in-law, declines to believe Hau could be guilty of the crime. Dr. Needham says he has known Hau five or six years and esteems him as one of the most scholarly and upright men he has ever known.

BOLD JOB DONE BY LONE MASKED BANDIT

Holds Up Pullman Car Near Kansas City and Compels Train Crew to Help Rob the Passengers.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 9.—A lone robber, masked, boarded the rear sleeper of an east bound California limited train on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, known as No. 44, between Slater and Glasgow, Mo., at 11:58 last night, robbed three passengers and escaped in the darkness.

According to the local officers of the Pullman company, the robber secured but $65. Among the three men forced by the robber to disgorge was E. R. Slagle, of Kansas City, assistant superintendent of the Pullman company.

Got Busy at Once.

The train was the through fast passenger from California, which between Kansas City and Chicago uses the Chicago and Alton tracks. It left Kansas City last night at 9 o'clock and was due in Chicago at 8 o'clock this morning. The robber, who is described as being tall and wearing a long black overcoat and a mask, boarded the rear sleeper at Slater. When the train had gained headway he entered the sleeper, an observation car. He encountered L. H. Searson, Pullman conductor, C. W. Roller, a flagman and R. Wood, a negro porter, all of Chicago. Leveiling two revolvers at the trio of trainmen, the robber commanded them to proceed ahead of him and wake up the passengers. As his command was carried out, the robber, forcing the conductor, porter and flagman ahead of him, secured what booty he could in his hurried march through the car.

Thwarted by Porter.

When he had reached the front end of the car he started for the second Pullman. The porter, however, had managed to get far enough ahead of the others to make a dash for the second car and slammed and locked the door in the face of the robber. The train was then at a point about one mile east of Glasgow. Realizing that he could proceed no further with his work, the robber pulled the air rope. While the train was slackening its speed, he jumped off and disappeared in the darkness.

Early this morning officers were started out from Glasgow, Slater, Kansas City and other nearby places to trace the robber. The territory in which he worked is thickly settled and it will be difficult for him to make his escape.

CONDUCTOR TELLS STORY.

Says He Had No Chance in First Car
But Made Good in Next.

Armstrong, Mo., Nov. 9.—Conductor Pearson, of the Rock Island train that was held up on the Chicago and Alton road near Slater last night, made the following statement when the train arrived here:

"When the robber walked up the steps of the rear sleeper as we pulled out of Slater and held two revolvers at my head I could do nothing but comply with his demands. He was tall and heavily masked. He wore a long black overcoat. He quietly told me to go ahead of him and with the negro porter's assistance get all the passengers' money."

"After we had awakened all those in the rear sleeper the robber told us to pass into the next one. The porter and I hurriedly passed into the second sleeper and then I slammed the door and locked it before the bandit knew what was taking place. While I called to other trainmen and passengers, the train stopped. I saw the robber jump from the last car and run quickly into the woods. He will have difficulty in escaping as we lost no time in informing Kansas City and all towns in this neighborhood of the robbery."

WANTED SIX DOLLARS.

Justice Tancey is in receipt of a letter from the license clerk of the state game warden's department asking him for $6 to pay for hunters' licenses applied for by John Becker, Harry Mills, Al Harstein, E. H. Thayer, Henry Korf and L. P. Wright. In mailing the applications the men failed to enclose the fee of $1 each and they are being held for remittances which they should have enclosed.

PRESIDENT IS NOW ON THE HIGH SEA

BATTLESHIP LOUISIANA PASSES OUT VIRGINIA CAPE.

Weather Pleasant and All Promises
Well for Happy Voyage—Ship Is Luxuriously Fitted.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 9.—President Roosevelt, on board the United States battleship Louisiana, bound for the isthmus of Panama, passed out to sea through the cape of Virginia exactly at 8:40 o'clock this morning. The Louisiana was followed by the armored cruisers Tennessee and Washington, which are to convey the battleship on her southern trip.

When some distance off Cape Henry the Louisiana raised signals of some kind, which the United States weather observer at the cape was unable to distinguish because of a great amount of smoke being emitted from the funnels of the Louisiana and other vessels at the time.

Neither of the warships made any stop, however, and soon passed out of sight to the southeast of Cape Henry. The transfer last night of the presidential party in upper Chesapeake bay from the yacht Mayflower to the Louisiana was without special incident so far as is known here.

The weather at sea today is charming and the conditions for a delightful trip by the president and his party could not be more promising than at present.

Wireless telegraph messages are expected from the president all along the coast. The Louisiana will not leave the coast for any great distance and will be in touch by wireless almost during the entire trip.

THE PRESIDENT STARTS.
Says He Is Going to See How Big Ditch Is Getting Along.

Washington, Nov. 9.—"Good-by, I am going down to see how the ditch is getting along," shouted President Roosevelt yesterday afternoon as he stood on the after starboard deck of the yacht Mayflower at the Washington navy yard, as the vessel was leaving the dock with the president for his Panama trip.

Accompanying the president were Mrs. Roosevelt and her maid, Surgeon General Rixey, of the navy, and M. C. Latta, one of the assistant secretaries at the white house. The Mayflower will take the party to Wolf Trap light, at the mouth of the Rappahannock river, in Chesapeake bay, where a transfer will be made to the battleship Louisiana, which is to convey the president to and from the isthmus.

Bugle Sounds Welcome.
President and Mrs. Roosevelt arrived at the navy yard shortly before 4 o'clock, where they were met by Secretary Loeb, Captain Lintz, the commandant of the yard, and Captain A. T. Long, of the Mayflower. A company of marines and a detachment of sailors were drawn up at the wharf, and as the presidential carriage arrived a welcome was sounded from the bugler aboard the ship and from a drummer in the marine ranks. For a few moments the president and Mrs. Roosevelt chatted with the naval officials on the wharf and then, as the band aboard the ship played the "Star Spangled Banner," and the bugle sounded another welcome, they walked down the gang plank aboard the vessel. Here had assembled to meet them Postmaster General and Mrs. Cortelyou, Ambassador Jusserand and

EPOCHAL EVENT IN RELIGIOUS AFFAIRS

DEDICATION OF SALVATION ARMY CITADEL SUNDAY.

Handsome Structure Has Been Erected at Cost of $4,000—Program for Event.

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Salvation Army Citadel, on East Washington street, near Clinton, will be dedicated with impressive ceremonies. An interesting program has been prepared for the affair and the event will mark an epoch in the religious affairs of the city. The structure, which is a handsomely decorated and thoroughly modern in all its appointments, is a monument to the untiring efforts of the local members of the Army who have zealously pushed the matter since their arrival in this city. The goal of their work has been a Citadel and now that the building is actually completed and ready to be dedicated the members feel exceedingly jubilant.

Program for Event.

The program has been arranged as follows:
Opening Song.....Rev. Harry B. Master
Prayer.....Rev. W. B. Vance, secretary
Introduction of Brigadier B. R. Cox by the chairman.....Mr. W. B. Vance Dedication.....Mr. George Boers
Address.....Mr. A. H. Perbot
Address.....Rev. C. W. Vance
Address.....Ralph Yarnelle, treasurer
Collection.....Staff Captain Atkins
Dedication.....Brigadier B. R. Cox
Benediction.....Brigadier B. R. Cox
Tomorrow evening Brigadier Blanche Cox, of Detroit, who has charge of the work in Indiana, will preside at a "Musical Bazaar" in the auditorium of the Citadel, which promises to be an interesting and entertaining affair. The bazaar will be held in the evening and the proceeds will be used in forwarding the work of the Army in the city. All of the churches in the city have been requested to take part in the bazaar on Sunday morning for the same cause.

A number of prominent members of the Army beside Brigadier Cox will be present at the dedication and will speak at various churches in the morning. Brigadier Cox will address the meeting at the Baptist church at 10:30 and also will be assisted by Staff Captain Yoder. At the same hour Staff Captain Atkins, of Indianapolis, will address the meeting at the Presbyterian church. In the evening Captain Atkins will speak at the Wayne Street M. E. church.

Description of Building.
The Citadel, which is henceforth to constitute the headquarters of the Salvation Army in this city, is a thoroughly modern structure of brick and concrete, much praise is due Captain McKay, whose efforts secured the means and whose management has brought building to practical completion with a very small expenditure of money. Not only did the captain give the structure at all times when it was in progress the benefit of his careful management but he actually contributed many days in the work of construction. The captain did all the building with a very small staff of six days contributed by local laymen, but in the sewerage system, besides managing all the inside work, he has also managed the carpenter work, etc. Under this arrangement the Salvation Army and public of Fort Wayne have been furnished with this splendid structure with an expenditure of the surprisingly small sum of a little over $4,000.

Room Garden Over Auditorium.
The second story of the Citadel has seven rooms and a bath—the captain's office, the dining room, kitchen, parlor and three bedrooms. There is also a room for extending every respect and comfort. This room garden is reached from the kitchen upstairs and has a floor of solid cement. The auditorium is 75x50 feet in dimensions and is complemented by a roomy stage. It is the intention of the Army to rent the hall for entertainments on Monday nights as well as to present the plays there occasionally on this night.

The basement will be used for smaller meetings and the Sunday school. The building is heated by steam, may be lighted by either electricity, artificial gas or acetylene gas, and is equipped with gas for cooking and heating purposes. Conspicuous features of the building are the art glass front, the art glass sign, which may be lighted by electricity, and the tile floor in the entrance.

still thronged with frightened and excited people.

There were twenty apartments in the building and the escape of the occupants of the upper floors was cut off by a blaze in the lower hall. The tenants were so dazed that they were in danger of losing their lives when policemen and firemen went up on the fire escapes and brought them down.

Adrian Tompkins, who lived on the top floor, lingered so long that he was painfully burned while climbing down the fire escape.

In each case the firemen quickly stopped the progress of the flames. The loss was about $20,000.

Frank Morris, of Boston, a vaudeville performer, was arrested on suspicion of setting the fires. The police allege that in each of the fires tenants reported that when they fled from their apartments Morris was the first person they met.

RUSSIAN ROBBERS MAKE THEIR ESCAPE

GET AWAY WITH $650,000 TAKEN FROM TRAIN AT ROGOW.

Large and Well Disciplined Band of Revolutionary Robbers Do an Amazing Stunt.

Rogow, Russian Poland, Nov. 9.—The Cossacks thus far have been unsuccessful in their pursuit of the revolutionary train robbers, numbering a hundred well armed men, who at 9 o'clock last night surrounded this station, threw three bombs at the mail car, a train white engine were being changed, derailed the car, robbed it and fled with a sum of money now said to amount to $650,000. The station master declares the revolutionists hid in the neighboring forests and were excellently disciplined, their commander giving orders through bugle signals. When the robbery was completed the revolutionists transported their booty to two wagons and marched off in military order, singing socialist songs.

Eye witnesses confirm the statement that the revolutionists were hidden in the neighboring woods. When the train stopped men armed with rifles sprang up on all sides.

Worked by Bugle Signal.
Quickly executing the orders conveyed by the bugle, the band members standing in front of the station were shot and killed and the revolutionists placed sentinels at all the approaches and cut the telegraph wires. While some of them overpowered the trainmen others attacked the escorts of the mail car. Of the three bombs thrown, two exploded with terrific force, blowing the cars to pieces, killing five soldiers and mortally wounding eleven others. The revolutionists then ransacked the mail, transferred the bank notes, gold and silver to their own bags and unfolding the red flag, formed up in military order, marched out of the station, entered wagons, which were waiting in the forest, and drove off.

It was not until three hours later that a detachment of Cossacks hurriedly sent for appeared on the scene and started in pursuit of the revolutionists.

Rogow is now occupied by the troops.
Railway Station Destroyed.
The railway station was practically destroyed by the revolutionists, who poured in regular volleys, the walls being pitted by hundreds of bullet marks. One of the mail clerks endeavored to catch the first bomb thrown at the car, but it exploded and tore off both his arms.

The authorities officially admit the loss of only $14,000 in cash besides the contents of the registered letters. The wounded men have been sent to Warsaw by special train.

NEW YORKER IS ARRESTED.
Student of Russian Trade Unionism in Trouble in St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 9.—James M. James, of New York, who is studying trade unionism in Russia, was arrested yesterday during a police raid on a trades union bureau and was held in a police station for five hours. He was released on threatening to appeal to the American consul. The bureau was closed on the ground that it was a center for revolutionary agitation.

HAD BOMB FOR JUDGES.
Russian Red Had One in Cell Ready
When Signal Came.

Kiev, Nov. 9.—A powerful bomb was found last night in the cell of a man named Rudenko, accused of attempting to kill Colonel Spiridovich, chief of the secret police, whose trial was to begin today. The bomb was concealed in the prisoner's mattress and was to have been thrown at the judges during the trial. Rudenko's trial has been transferred to a drumhead court martial.

SALOON MEN WIN IN LONG BATTLE

JEFFERSON TOWNSHIP REMONSTRANCE INSUFFICIENT.

One Applicant for Liquor License Turned Down and Other Is Granted—Courts.

At the close of a long battle between the temperance supporters and liquor interests in Jefferson township, the county commissioners today held a blanket remonstrance filed several months ago insufficient and granted to Joseph G. Gerhardt a license to open a saloon. The application of Claude F. Gladioux was declared faulty because the description of the building in which he proposed to conduct a saloon was not properly given in his notice and a license was refused.

James G. Graham and James B. Harper, who represented the remonstrants, announced that they would appeal to one of the higher courts and the matter will probably be taken up at once.

As originally presented the remonstrance had the signatures of 322 of 428 voters in the township. Gerhardt and Gladioux made a fight and succeeded in proving that eight of the men who had signed the document were either not legal voters or had affixed their names to withdrawals prior to the filing of the remonstrance. This leaves 214 on the list, which is one short of the required majority.

Another remonstrance will be filed at once and the same powers of attorney used and it will be good, as the total number of votes cast for county assessor in the two precincts of Jefferson township was 352. The law requires a majority of the highest vote cast for an office in the township and the candidates for assessor polled the greatest number.

Court Notes.
The M. I. Wilcox company has brought suit against William S. Rogers for $300 on a check.

The will of Robert Gage was filed in the circuit court this afternoon and under its conditions his property is divided between his widow and son, Joseph Gage.

6 o'clock, according to the testimony. They went straight to the hotel kept by Levi J. Cook, where Hinshaw had the woman in charge of the office register his name. This was according to the testimony of Cook.

Cook further said that he assigned them to room No. 6, and the three went up together immediately after Hinshaw had requested that a cot be placed in the room.

The three stayed there until the next day at noon, according to Cook's testimony. When they came out the witness said that the woman was nervous and wished to keep out of sight. They went north later that day, going on the train together.

Woman's Confession Completes Chain.
Their testimony did not establish that the woman was Mrs. Freeman, but Mrs. Freeman's reported confession to her husband as told by him today, as well as Hinshaw's own confession that the two were at Shirley together, is said to have identified the woman referred to by the five Shirley witnesses as being Mrs. Freeman.

After these five Shirley witnesses had testified they were sent out of the executive room and C. R. Carter, whose wife is Mrs. Freeman's sister, and with whom Mrs. Freeman stayed while in Lynn, testified that he noticed Mrs. Freeman and Hinshaw and said several times that matters did not look right.

Freeman testified concerning the confession of his wife. He told of her going to Lynn and taking the young child with her; her delayed return; his receiving the anonymous letter that led him to investigate and led him to learn enough to force the story from her. He told of her confession as to the correspondence, the meetings at Lynn, the drives together and the circumstances at Shirley.

WABASH IS DEEPLY STIRRED.
Hinshaw-Freeman Scandal Causes Profound Sensation.

Wabash, Ind., Nov. 9.—A profound sensation was caused in this city by the arrest of W. E. Hinshaw and the story of his relations with Mrs. Geo. Freeman. On the 19th of last June Mrs. Freeman, who is the mother of two children, and whose reputation has always been of the highest here, went to Lynn, Randolph county, on a visit to relatives, her early life having been spent in that vicinity, taking with her her four-year-old son. She expected to remain only a few days, but instead was absent two weeks, and wrote to Mr. Freeman fixing a day for her arrival in Wabash, but did not appear and came unannounced the following afternoon.

BAR AMENDMENT FAILS.
Vote on Lawyer Proposition Was Light in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Nov. 9.—The total number of votes cast on the proposed constitutional amendment, to give the legislature power to prescribe qualifications for admission to the bar, was only 3,331 in Marion county—2,791 for the amendment and 540 against it. Reports from all parts of the state tend to show that the vote on the amendment was correspondingly light everywhere, defeating the measure beyond question. The amendment, in order to pass, would have required a majority of all the votes cast at the election and this in Marion county would have meant a majority of the total of more than 51,000 votes.

BASEBALL TAKES HOLD ON ISTHMUS

LARGE NUMBER OF ENTHUSIASTIC AMERICAN FANS THERE.

Chief Engineer Stevens, Judge Gudger and Other Notables Play With "Old Timers" Team.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Base ball has taken Panama by storm since the arrival on the canal zone of large numbers of enthusiastic American fans. The love of the sport has spread from the marines, clerks and other employees of the isthmian canal and the commission and the social leaders of Panama have placed their stamp of approval upon the great American game.

Not content with watching others play base ball, Chief Engineer John F. Stevens, Judge Gudger, of the canal zone supreme court, Governor Melendez, of Colon, and a score of other prominent men recently organized their rival teams known as "old timers" and "new comers" and played a game at Cocoa grove, near the city of Panama, for the benefit of isthmian charities.

According to announcements of the game received by members of the commission in this city, it was a great financial and social success. Before the game Governor Melendez and several other members of the competing teams protested against J. G. Duque, an old time editor in Panama, on the ground that he was a professional and an agreement was entered into that practice would be done away with entirely on the ground that it would be tiresome.

The game was an event of international character and brought the army and navy and marine corps of the United States into competition with the representatives of many foreign powers. O. C. S. Mallett, British consul general, was a member of the "old timers." Arnold Shanklin, the American consul general at Panama; Harry D. Reed, the executive secretary of the canal zone, and a number of other prominent Americans assisted Mr. Stevens' team of "new comers."

NECK AND NECK IN NEW YORK.

A Toss Up Between Chanler and Bruce for Lieutenant Governorship.

New York, Nov. 9.—Latest returns from all sections of the state indicate that the official count will be necessary to determine whether M. Linn Bruce, (rep.), or Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, (dem.) and Independence league candidate) was elected lieutenant governor last Tuesday. With incomplete and partially estimated returns from every county in the state, Chanler's possible plurality has been cut down to 671. The incompleteness of the figures on which this calculation is based make it possible that the official returns will show a wide variance in either direction. Corrected returns from six counties, on which yesterday's figures were based, show a gain of 682 votes in favor of the republican candidate and additional returns reduce Chanler's plurality to 671.

Official returns from Erie county which came in this afternoon showed a net gain for Chanler of 355 over previous figures. This increases his present apparent plurality to 1,026. There probably will be no new figures on the governorship before the returns are received from the official county canvasser.

The latest unofficial returns indicate that Hughes' plurality is about 61,300.

Lee C. Wolford, an employee of the Wabash shops, died at 8:15 o'clock this morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. F. Martin Schlotz, 2206 Winter street, from tuberculosis at the age of 28 years.

He was born in Fort Wayne April 8, 1878, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Wolford, and was united in marriage December 9, 1900, to Miss Susie Noll. Surviving relatives include the wife, two children, mother, a brother and a sister. Mr. Wolford was a member of the Tribe of Ben Hur.

Funeral services Sunday afternoon at 1:30 from the residence and at 2 o'clock from the Free Methodist church.

GETTINGER.

Friends in Fort Wayne have been advised of the death of Norman Gettinger, formerly of this city, which occurred at Bloomington, Ill. yesterday. The young man was a machinist, having learned his trade at the Wabash shops in this city, and later worked a short time at the Bass shops before going to Bloomington. His mother resides in this city.

The remains will be brought to Fort Wayne for burial.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Dr. H. G. Merz and his two children, Henry and Della Merz, had a narrow escape from severe injury Wednesday evening when in the darkness their horse and carriage plunged into the excavation for the connection of the Decatur interurban with the tracks of the city street railway system at Calhoun street and Radcliff avenue. The horse was thrown, the buggy overturned and all the occupants were pitched out, but fortunately none was injured, though the buggy was wrecked. It is said there were no warning lights to mark the dangerous spot.

Bluffton Man Cured of ECZEMA

By a Fort Wayne Physician

J. W. Smith, a citizen well known in both Bluffton and Fort Wayne, makes a public statement for the benefit of the public.

"For many years I suffered with eczema of the hands. I was treated by over twenty-five physicians, among whom were some of the noted skin specialists of the country, but none of them were able to cure me. I studied all the books and medical literature on the subject of eczema and tried all the remedies I ever heard of, but was unable to cure myself. I finally heard of the success of Dr. Wells in curing skin diseases and I went to him for treatment. He cured me in a short time, and though a year and a half has elapsed, there has been no return of the disease. I make this public statement as a tribute to his skill and I advise others suffering from skin disease to consult him."

"J. W. SMITH, Bluffton, Ind." This is a fair sample of many more such testimonials I can produce. I cure more bad cases of skin disease than all the other specialists in Fort Wayne. If you have any doubts about it, consult the patients you meet in my reception room.

If you have any skin or blood disease that you have been unable to have cured, I would be pleased to see you.

INDS A NEW RACE IN ARCTIC REGION

CAPTAIN OF WHALER TELLS OF STRANGE INHABITANTS.

Officer From North Tells of People Who Never Before Had Gazed on Face of White Men.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 9.—Details of the finding of a people who never had seen white men, on Prince Albert Land, in the Arctic, are given by an officer of the returned revenue cutter Thetis, who learned full details from Capt. Klunkinberg, of the steam whaler Olga, who located them.

Last winter, when his vessel was in the ice near Prince Albert Land, Klunkinberg, accompanied by an Eskimo, started inland on a hunting trip. He went 250 miles in a northeasterly direction over the snow, finding traces of people. Other whalers had also seen traces of natives in this region, but never sighted them.

Made Friends of Natives. Capt. Klunkinberg came up with 150 or more persons. When they saw him they came toward him armed with copper knives and bows and arrows. They held these above their heads and he pointed a rifle at them. One advanced alone, and the captain laid down his rifle, the native putting down his weapons.

They became friendly, and by means of signs Klunkinberg learned that, other than one old woman who came from Prince William Land, they never had seen white men previously. He visited the village and found about 600 people, all of whom lived by hunting and fishing.

Dressed in Tanned Skins. The natives used the most primitive utensils, fashioned from bone and native copper. Their dress was not like that of other Eskimos, but similar to that of the Greenland natives, made of softly tanned skins sewed with deer sinews. Their winter houses were of sod, with an inner lining of skins and different in shape from those of other known tribes. They were nomads.

The only article seemingly brought from civilization seen by Capt. Klunkinberg was a piece of steel, evidently from some ship, which was converted into a spearhead.

BEES FOLLOW KEEPER TO GRAVE. Display Affection Similar to That Shown by Dogs in Their Devotion.

Wall Lake, Iowa, Nov. 3.—That the honey bees have the same affection for their keeper that a dog or horse has for his master was shown here when Oliver J. Seer, a pioneer bee man of lower Iowa, and a long string of bees hovered over the hearse and settled in trees about the newly dug grave of their keeper.

Seer loved his bees and worked with them without gloves or bee veil. It was one of the remarkable things told by the beekeepers of Sac county that his bees never stung him, and followed him affectionately about the farm and through the buildings of his large apiary. When their winter food was low he fed them sugar syrup and rye flour, and wrapped up their hives in old bed quilts.

From the day of Mr. Seer's death until the funeral it was noticed that the bees were hovering and clustered around the vicinity of the hives. Then came the funeral, and when the cortege was slowly moving over a hill a great string of bees were seen hovering over the hearse. The next day it was discovered that all the bees had left their hives. Then several swarms were found in the trees of the cemetery, near the grave of their keeper. The others had disappeared mysteriously as though they had been spirited away by the invisible soul of their master.

Keeps Troth Though Bridegroom Is Sightless and Armless.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 3.—An instance of genuine devotion is shown by the presence of a blind couple, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Nelson, of Johnson county, at the Plankinton house. Nelson is blind and has lost both arms, but that did not deter his bride from keeping her troth and they were married Tuesday at the Plankinton city and they are now on their wedding trip.

Nelson was superintendent of a mine at Laramie and his fiancée was the daughter of a man in comfortable circumstances. A few months ago Nelson was injured while carrying a box of dynamite caps. He fell and the entire box exploded, destroying both his eyes and tearing one arm off the wrist and the other at the elbow. His life was despaired of, but his loyal sweetheart nursed him through his illness and when he had recovered his health refused to accept his offer to release her from her promise to marry. She leads her newly married husband about and waits upon him as if he were a child.

We are showing 40 styles of our special $3.00 knee pants suits. They have double seats and knees, tape seams and will shed water.

Happiness in a Tablet

Perfect Health for Every One Procured at Small Cost.

How many times have you sat down at your meals absolutely disgusted at the thought or sight of anything to eat?

How many times have you sat down at your meals without the trace of an appetite, but just because it was "time to eat?"

How many times have you felt a gnawing, unsatisfied "still-hungry" feeling in your stomach, even after you were through eating?

How many times have you felt that "lump of lead" on your stomach after eating, whether your meal was well cooked or not?

And how many times have you suffered a whole lot of other things from your stomach that you couldn't explain, but that made you grouchy, miserable, out-of-sorts and generally sour in everybody and everything?

It is safe to say you couldn't tell. You don't keep track of those things, of course, but you know you've suffered from them. You probably have had them for so long that they've become a habit with you, and you have come to the conclusion that your fate is to suffer them indefinitely and perhaps forever.

And so men, much like horses, standing unhitched at the hitching post, think they're tied, and so their habit makes them prisoners.

But no one need have dyspepsia, nor indigestion, nor loss of appetite, heart-irritation, burning sensations, heartburn, nausea, criculations, bad memory, loss of vim and vigor and the happiness that comes from a hearty stomach and a good appetite if he will only leave his old hitching post and tie himself to a new one, one that will hold him to health, joy, ambition and a clear mind and memory, and the sunshine that goes with them.

That indeed is heaven! And you can get it in a little tablet already prepared for the purpose, in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, those little cherubs of health and delight found in thousands of homes today. Listen—one ingredient of one of these precious little tablets will digest for you 2,000 grains of food.

This relieves your stomach of the work of digesting until your stomach can get strong and healthy again. Your stomach has been overworked, and abused. It's fagged out. It needs a rest.

Let Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do the work of your stomach. You will be surprised how fine you'll feel after eating, and how lusciously good everything will taste to you. That's because the Tablets are thoroughly digesting the food which your stomach couldn't digest before.

Take these tablets on your dining table, and take one or two after every meal without fail. Then you will realize as never before that the human stomach decides for every man whether he will go forward or backward—and besides, you'll forget you ever had a stomach to torment you.

HEAT DYNAMITE: ONE DEATH.

Man Killed, Another Missing and Seven Hurt at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 9.—One Italian laborer was instantly killed, one is missing and thought to have been blown to pieces, two are fatally hurt and fifteen others are seriously injured by the explosion of ten sticks of dynamite shortly after noon yesterday in Carriek borough.

The victims were laborers on a sewer and were seated around a fire eating. One of the men had placed the dynamite near the fire to take the frost out and no attention was given it. Without warning there was a terrific explosion in the center of the group around the fire. Several hospitals were called upon and within a few moments physicians and ambulances were at the scene. Parts of the men's bodies were brought to the morgue in a basket. Several of the injured had legs and arms blown off and one man had his eyes blown out. One man had not been accounted for and it is thought he was blown to atoms.

Men's Furnishings

This is a Men's store just as much as a Ladies' store. Made so from the fact that the excellent values we give for the extreme low prices is a big inducement for the men folks to save on every purchase. Our prices are much less and the values and selections much better than at exclusive furnishing stores, for our general business enables us to sell you Gents' Furnishings at a small margin of profit. We have gentlemen in charge of the department who are always ready to wait upon you with due courtesy.

Men's Long Silk Mufflers, black, white, grey, etc. $1.00, $1.25, $1.75

New York results look as though the state wanted and was ready to again become democratic.

But a nickel to a copper Hon. C. C. Gilham, two times congressman-elect from the Twelfth Indiana district, is not quarreling with himself or his neighbors about the size of his majority.

Among the distracting queries that must be hopping about in the think works owned and operated by Hon. Fred Lander is whether it would have been better or worse if Hon. Nick Longworth hadn't run over to help him.

Maintenance of the present admirable organization, a good ticket and half a chance should enable the Allen county democracy to sweep the platter clean two years hence. A splendid fight was made in the campaign just closed and Chairman Hoffman and his aides deserve immense credit for what they have achieved.

Secretary Taft, of the war department, has just caused to be prepared a statement of the expenditures incurred by sending troops to Cuba to mediate between the Palma government and the insurgents. The report, when completed, will be sent to congress with a view of permitting the legislative body to assess the whole or any part of the amount to the island republic. Mileage of 240 officers who were sent on special trips in connection with the movement of the soldiers and the transportation of about six thousand troops will figure in the expedition. Ten per cent will have to be added to the pay of both officers and men under the regulations providing for service beyond the sea. There will also be an expense for the salaries of civilians running from $20,000 per year for Provisional Governor Magoon down to the hire of clerks serving in a minor capacity. As yet it has not been determined just what proportion will be chargeable to Cuba.

Another cause of future friction with the irritable Japanese is developing and may soon head in the movement to restrict, to some extent at least, Japanese immigration to the Hawaiian islands. The administration at Washington is showing interest in the matter and Commissioner General of Immigration Sargent will leave for Honolulu in a few days to make a study of the situation. The people of Hawaii, alarmed at the steady increase of Japanese immigration, took up the question of obtaining laborers from Europe. They were successful in inducing Europeans to go to the islands, and two ships are now on their way to Honolulu with immigrants. The question of Japanese immigration to Hawaii has been more or less vexed for some time and may soon become an acute issue in diplomacy along with the school question in San Francisco, which is causing the state department no little anxiety just now.

Within a year from this time the democracy of the Twelfth congressional district will be seriously casting about for a man who can redeem the district from the republicans. That the right man can do it is not to be doubted. Without in any sense seeking to launch a boom for him—indeed, without having consulted him about it at all—we would commend to the democracy of this district some city to Mr. Edward G. Hoffman, of this city. It seems to us that Mr. Hoffman combines in his personality a most admirable blending of all the essential qualities of a congressional candidate and representative in congress. He has high character, a clean record, superior education, eminence in his profession seldom attained by one of his years, frank manliness and natural and sincere geniality of address. His abilities are of the highest order and he is singularly gifted as a public speaker. His conduct of the Allen county campaign has won him high encomiums and he is rated as one of the best chairmen the democracy of the county has had in many years. We do not know that Mr. Hoffman wants to go to congress, but he is a good man for the democrats of the Twelfth district to keep an eye on when looking for somebody who can win.

It is expected that within a very few days the proposed suits of the government against the Standard Oil company for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law will be filed. Attorney General Moody had a short talk with President Roosevelt a day or two before the president started on his Panama trip and at the conclusion of the conference announced that it was probable the suits would begin almost immediately. It has just been learned that the government's bill of complaint was printed during the recent absence of Secretary Moody from Washington and that nothing now stands in the way of the commencement of this long-promised prosecution of the Standard Oil trust. The bill of complaint is said to cover every phase of the case. The evidence was carefully considered by the attorney general and Messrs. Kellogg and Morrison, the special counsel for the government, and they left Washington with the understanding that the proceedings would be commenced soon. It is said that the president himself went over all of the evidence and is convinced that the government has a strong case. Some weeks ago it was reported from Washington that the administration had resolved to break up the trust practices of certain great corporations and that the Standard Oil monopoly had been selected as the adversary of the government, both because it is the largest and seems to present certain typical phases of trust development that it in contravention of the Sherman anti-trust law.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the Editor of The Sentinel:
I take this means of thanking my many friends for the kindness bestowed upon me in the election on Tuesday. Words cannot express the gratitude I feel toward them. I shall, however, endeavor to show my appreciation by attending strictly to my duties and doing all in my power to be a credit to the confidence they have placed in me.
Thanking you one and all, I am your obedient servant,
JESSE GRICE.

UTES NAUD FOR FORT MEADE.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 9.—According to advices received at army headquarters here the Ute Indians, who have been causing trouble in Wyoming and Montana, are en route for Fort Meade and are expected to arrive at Fort Meade about November 14. They go overland.

The Indians are escorted by the eight troops of the Sixth cavalry from Fort Meade, under command of Colonel Rodgers, while two troops of the Sixth from Fort Kaibab and eight troops of the Tenth cavalry from Fort Robinson, under Colonel Augur, will remain in the field on scouting duty to round up any Indians who may break away from the main body en route.

The startling assertion is made, and admitted by the government authorities, that in Saxony two-thirds of all the cattle in the kingdom are affected with tuberculosis.

Girl, Denied Boy Friends, Missing After Whipping

New York, Nov. 9.—No trace has been found of missing Margaret Fontaine, who ran away from her home early Sunday. The girl is only fourteen years old. She is a daughter of Allen Fontaine, an artist, living at No. 370 Columbus avenue.

The father now says that he will never again object to his daughter's having "company." It is supposed that the only reason the girl ran away was because her father, on account of her youth, issued an edict that she must not have any intimate young men friends. But in the future, he now adds, she can have all the callers she wishes at her home. Her father is sorry now that he was so harsh with the girl.

Friends of the girl told her father that Miss Fontaine had frequently declared she would run away from home because he objected to her receiving attentions from John Gaylan, an electrician, because of her youth.

One week ago, Mr. Fontaine stated, he whipped the girl because he found her in the company of Gaylan, and she had been in an unhappy mood from that time until she left home. Mr. Fontaine regrets his actions and declares if his daughter means home he will not object to her having company, providing her friends come to his home.

The girl left the house before the other members of the family had arisen. She took on many of her clothes and her father believes she had gone to the home of some friend. As soon as he discovered that she was missing, Mr. Fontaine began a search for her, and asked the police to help him. The homes of former classmates of the girl and of close friends were visited, but no trace of her could be found.

Miss Fontaine and Gaylan, who for a time, became friends two years ago, when the latter, with his uncle, took up his residence in the apartment building where the Fontaines reside. Since then they have met infrequently in spite of the father's objections.

Quaker Killed by Train Has $20,000 in Pockets.
Baltimore, Md., Nov. 9.—Calvin Harlan, an eccentric Quaker, aged 65 years, who didn't believe in banks, was killed yesterday by a train near Ashland. His body was carried for a mile on the locomotive pilot, while gold and bags of bank notes were scattering over $20,000 fell from his clothing and was scattered along the tracks. All day railroad men and others have been picking up the money. The ticket agent at Ashland recovered $5,000 in notes. Another man found $4,000 in gold. Men were searching last night by the light of lanterns for Harlan's gold. It is not known how much money he had in his pockets.

STANDARD OIL RAISES WAGES.
Five and Ten Per Cent Advance for Refining Branch Employees.
Lima, O., Nov. 9.—A five and ten per cent advance in the wages of all employees of the refining branch of the Standard Oil company was announced here today. The advance affects immediately nine hundred employees of the Solar refinery in this city and the army of employees at Welker, Wood county, Ohio; in Oil City, Pa.; Whiting, Ind.; Bayonne, N. J.; Denver and Charleston, S. C. No notice of like advance has been received by the pipe line department, but rumor has it that the voluntary advance will extend to every branch of the company.

HANGING OF SON TOO MUCH.
Father of Pennsylvania Murderer Commits Suicide.
Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 9.—Jacob Hauser, sr., father of Jacob Hauser, jr., who was hanged last February for the murder, in a most sensational manner, of his wife and mother-in-law, was today found hanging to a tree in the back yard of his home, having escaped from the house and committed suicide during the night. He had of late been worrying greatly over his wife's fate.

AN OPEN LETTER

To the People of Ft. Wayne.

To Whom It May Concern:

Of late there has been a good deal of discussion in Fort Wayne in regard to advertised medicines and their value—the papers are full of them.

It is generally conceded that the most valuable preparation of cod liver oil—the best tonic reconstructor, health restorer and strength creator—ever sold is Vinol.

Vinol is not a patent medicine, it contains no injurious drugs, but it actually does contain all of the medicinal, curative elements taken from fresh cod's livers, without a drop of the useless oil to upset the stomach and retard its work, and tonic iron added.

Vinol is regarded throughout the world as the greatest strength creator for old people, the sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles. The people of Fort Wayne should try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails.

Note—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Fort Wayne, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

WRIT SERVER TURNS DIVER.

Wisconsin Official Plans Watery Trip to Sunken Boat.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 9.—Deputy United States Marshal Guy isn't a man to be baffled by time nor tide and he proved it yesterday when he donned a diving suit and prepared to go to the bottom of Lake Michigan to post an attachment notice on the hull of the wrecked liner Atlanta.

He went so far as to sail to the spot where the vessel lies in his uncomfortable suit, but was saved from the watery dip when a heavy rain set in and the water sufficiently to contain the legal notice.

So he posted the notice there, which was all that was required of him. The Atlanta, which was owned by the Goodrich line, was burned to the water's edge last winter off Port Washington.

The hull of the vessel went down at that place, but a considerable distance from shore. A dispute arose over the payment of a salvage claim of $2,000 by Smith Brothers, of Chicago.

Soon after the boat burned the Goodrich company surrendered the wreck to the insurance company. It is said the wreck has again been sold more recently. When the Smith claim was filed it was discovered that the Goodrich company as well as the insurance company would not pay, and further, a statute was brought out in defense, which says that attachments on a boat must be posted in the vessel or remains of it. That was how Guy happened to make his unusual trip.

"BARGAIN SALE" IN GRAVES.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 9.—The park commission will meet the competition of outside cemeteries. A cut in the prices of certain graves has been decided upon. Seven hundred or eight hundred choice graves at Greenwood cemetery will be placed on sale at $10 each, which is lower by $5 than the price commonly charged in the city cemetery.

The commissioners believe that the "marginal price" will shut off the tendency to patronize the small cemeteries of Kent county.

The price of $10 not only pays for the grave but provides perpetual care.

The Patterson store sells Boys' Waterproof knee pant suits at $5.00.

ITALIANS IN STEEL PROTEST.

Rome, Nov. 9.—The agitation in Italy against the action of the government in placing an order for armor plate for an Italian man or war vessel at $1,000,000 a ton has been decided upon. A committee is assuming a serious character. At Terni, where practically the entire population lives on the local iron and steel, about 15,000 people, headed by the mayor of Terni, held a meeting yesterday and protested against the giving of contracts to foreign firms.

Display of choicest clothes at Patterson's.

MUST HAVE COMMISSIONS.

Newly Elected Officers Required to Secure Them.

Newly elected officers in the county, including judges, prosecuting attorney, clerk of circuit court, county auditor, sheriff, coroner, surveyor and justices of the peace must be possessed of a commission from the governor of the state before they can enter upon the discharge of their duties, and none can enter upon a second term without a renewal of his former commission.

For attesting the signature of the governor and registering the commission the secretary of state is entitled to a fee of sixty cents, which is used for the benefit of the state, and in a letter to County Clerk Johnson, Hon. Fred A. Sims, present secretary, asks that checks, money or postoffice order be sent, as stamps will not be accepted.

WIDOW FOUND MURDERED.

Pennsylvania Woman is Killed for Her Money.

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 9.—Mrs. Catherine Stauffer, a widow, was found murdered in her bed early today at Lambertville, a small village in Somerset county. There was a bullet hole in her head. It is believed Mrs. Stauffer was murdered for money which she is supposed to have possessed. A couple of grandchildren were living with her, one of whom, a girl, is almost grown up.

The girl was awakened by the presence of a man in her room. He tried to choke and chloroform her, but she made her escape and aroused the neighbors. When they arrived on the scene the man was gone.

BIG BUSINESS IN GOAT SKINS.

United States Imported $32,000,000 of Them This Year.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Goat skins to the value of $32,000,000 were imported into the United States in the fiscal year 1906 against $10,000,000 worth a decade earlier. These figures were gathered by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, and in making them public it is stated that the only important article of manufacturers' materials showing a more rapid gain in importations is pig iron. Of the imports of goat skins, India is the largest contributor, having supplied $11,000,000 worth in 1906.

NEW DIPLOMAT COMING.

London, Nov. 9.—Esme Howard, British consul general in the island of Crete, has been appointed to the recently created post of councillor of the British embassy at Washington and will be acting ambassador during the interim pending the appointment of a successor to Sir Mortimer Durand.

LOSE $18,000 TO SWINDLER.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 9.—A clever confidence game worked among business men of this city is known to have cost two prominent business men $18,000 and others are believed to have been caught.

Charles A. Kimmell and Dr. W. A. Gray three months ago invested $18,000 in what they believed to be the Oklahoma Land and investment company. At the end of this time they were to receive deeds and titles for the land, but the deeds failed to arrive and the Peoria men awoke to the fact that they had been swindled.

James Moriarity, who represented the alleged company in this city, left some time ago for Chicago. The police of Chicago have been asked to try and locate the man.

STOP GAMBLING IN PANAMA.

Panama, Nov. 9.—The national assembly yesterday unanimously approved a bill prohibiting gambling in the republic. It will now be signed by President Amador and gambling on the isthmus will become a thing of the past. Gambling is already absolutely prohibited in the canal zone.

Miss Theresa Bauer, who was recently operated on at the Hope hospital for appendicitis, is reported to be much improved.

ELECTION IS OVER

We want to congratulate the fortunate candidates, and to those who failed to be elected, we can say—"You made a good fight."

NOW TO THE PUBLIC

We will say: "Let's get right down to business. You have had campaign talk for breakfast, lunch and dinner. You have not had a minute to think about clothes for yourself, or perhaps the boys, but all this time we have been receiving dray loads of the finest clothes for men, boys and children—that money will buy, and now our store is crowded with the new things. We need more room. The clothing piles are to high."

Now Mr. Sensible Man.

For a heart to heart talk. If we will sell you a Suit and Overcoat made by one of the finest makers in the world at less money than you would have to pay someone else for inferior made garments, won't you help us lower our great stock? We believe you'll be willing.

We Can Fit You

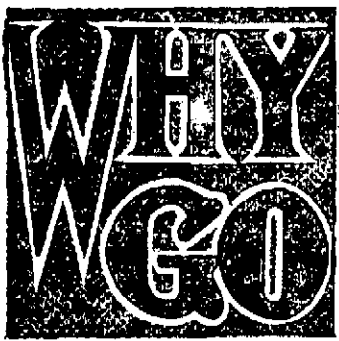

4,000 new Suits; 3,000 new Overcoats. If you are short and fat, or slim and tall, come right along. We fit them all.

Our Children's Department

Is the center of attraction for mothers with boys to clothe. When it comes to dressing the boys we are in our element. Mothers often say they can tell when we dress a boy—there is a sort of "Just Right" appearance about his clothes. Our special Suits at $4.00 and $5.00 are winning us many new customers. Visit this department on our second floor.

Of New Trunk and Leather Goods Store Tomorrow.

Messrs. Clem J. Romadka, Jno. Vilinou, C. J. Lius and L. J. Aldering are the members of the new Trunk and Leather Goods store. They have leased the store building of John Bothner, at 1018 Calhoun street, which has been thoroughly altered and decorated to accommodate the new business, and there the business will be conducted under the name of "Romadka's," with Mr. Lew J. Aldering as manager. The manager comes to Fort Wayne with the highest encomiums for good business ability and genuine social qualities. With these attributes he ought to certainly succeed in his business venture and no doubt will. The new store will be opened tomorrow with a complete line of trunks, traveling bags, suit cases, good leather goods such as ladies' and gentlemen's pocketbooks, etc. A repair department will be a feature of this store. The public is cordially invited to call and inspect our lines.

NOTED SCULPTOR DEAD.

Samuel J. Kitson, Who Did Much Great Work, Passes Away.

New York, Nov. 9.—Samuel J. Kitson, the sculptor, who had studios in New York and Boston, died at 1 o'clock this morning. Kidney disease was the cause of death.

Mr. Kitson was born in England 58 years ago. He was the principal sculptor of the interior work in the house of W. K. Vanderbilt, in this city. His other works include the Sheridan monument at Arlington, Va.; North Frieze soldiers' and sailors' monument at Hartford, Conn., and a portrait of Governor Greenhalge in the state house at Boston.

Sledge and Relics of Peary Expeditions Into the Arctic.

POLAR EXHIBIT AT MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY.

New York, Nov. 9.—Illustrative of Robert E. Peary's progress in the Arctic zone, an interesting polar exhibit has been arranged in the American Museum of Natural History, in Manhattan square.

As the main feature of the exhibit there is shown a fully equipped sledge used by Peary in his trip across the ice in 1900-1902. This sledge is drawn by four dogs and is guided by a figure in complete arctic robes. Usually drawn by eight dogs, this sledge, carrying 100 pounds, was first used by Peary with six dogs and then, toward the end of his trip, with only four.

Included in the display are a chronometer, pocket sextant, compass and aneroid barometer used by Peary on an earlier expedition, and also those abandoned by General Greely at Fort Conger. The aneroid barometer is used to register the pressure of atmosphere without the employment of mercury or a similar fluid.

There are also photographs of the Roosevelt, of the crew, of the family of the explorer on board the ship and of different aspects of the ship. As a background there is a large hemisphere showing the different routes that have been taken by various arctic explorers.

At the entrance to the display is a blackboard on which has been outlined Peary's progress and mode of living in the polar regions. An exhibit of musk oxen, such as have been eaten by the explorer's party, has been placed in the mammal department.

MAY SHUT UP LOURDES GROTTO

Famous French Resort Likely to Be Closed Under New Law.

Paris, Nov. 9.—Pears are entertained that Premier Clemenceau will order the closing of the famous grotto at Lourdes, and the people of that city are in a state of semi-panic. Should the law abolishing religious communities be enforced the present prosperity of Lourdes would vanish and the place would become deserted. The mayor of Lourdes and other leading men are urging the ecclesiastics in charge of the grotto and pool to form themselves into an association, under the new law, but the religious folk are reluctant to take this step, merely saying that they are trusting in God. If they do not decide before the expiration of a month, at which time the statute goes into effect, the Lourdes pool may be destroyed and the pilgrimages abolished. The matter, however, is a source of embarrassment to the government, which is reported to be seeking some way out of the perplexing situation.

CUBAN LIBERALS WANT OFFICE.

Refusal of Governor Magoon to Oust Moderates Results in Action.

Havana, Nov. 9.—The growing sentiment of dissatisfaction among liberals in consequence of lack of success of their efforts to induce Governor Magoon to dismiss moderates from important posts in the insular administration, replacing them with liberals, crystallized last night at a secret meeting of the liberal committee on appointments.

Special objection was made to the reappointment of a police captain named Reguera, a moderate. It was decided to appoint a committee to appeal to the governor for recognition of liberals. Governor Aleman, of Santa Clara, has dismissed Garcia Vieta, a moderate, from the post of mayor of Cienfuegos. He was opposed by the liberals on account of his alleged complicity in a murder at Cienfuegos last year. It is believed this removal will tend to the restoration of tranquillity in that vicinity, where there has been discontent and considerable disorder.

Read every word of the Patterson "ad" on page five. You ought to know more about the mercerized cotton chest.

MILLS NOT TO OPPOSE BAILEY.

Opponents of Senator, However, May Put Up Old Rival.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 9.—There is no ground for the rumor that former United States Senator Roger Q. Mills is a candidate for United States senator to succeed J. W. Bailey. Mr. Mills, old and very feeble, is living in retirement on his farm near Corsicana, and for eight years has been entirely out of politics.

The anti-Bailey issue was not involved in the election. The state convention in Dallas on Nov. 15 unanimously nominated Bailey for United States senator and the party members of the legislature were instructed to vote for him. He was also endorsed in the state platform. Bailey's friends are confident he will receive the full party vote. Positions, however, are being circulated for signatures, asking the legislature to defeat Bailey. No candidate has yet been agreed upon to oppose him, but the feeling is general that if one is finally taken up by the anti-Bailey opposition he will be Horace Clifton, of Dallas, whom Bailey defeated six years ago.

KOREAN CONSUL RETURNS.

San Francisco, Nov. 9.—William Haywood, American consul general in Korea, has arrived here on the Pacific liner Korea. Within a few weeks after his arrival at Seoul, Mr. Haywood was taken ill with pulmonary trouble. His physician ordered him to Arizona.

as being the only place he would have a chance to regain his health. He is accompanied by his wife and two children. His condition is said to be serious and little hope is entertained for his recovery.

$100,000,000 COTTON FIRM.

Southern Men Form Organization to Defeat Wall Street.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 9.—A movement designed "to maintain a profitable price for cotton against the conspiracies of Wall Street" was inaugurated last evening at a meeting of the executive committee of the Southern Cotton association.

The method proposed for accomplishing this purpose is formation of "the Southern Cotton company," with an authorized capital of $100,000,000, to build warehouses, buy up cotton at reasonable prices and otherwise endeavor to regulate selling so that cotton shall be traded in on the basis of its intrinsic value rather than on speculation.

DRUGGISTS WILL CLOSE.

At a meeting of the Retail Druggists' association held in the Commercial club rooms Thursday afternoon it was decided to close all the drug stores in the city on Thanksgiving day from noon until 6 o'clock in the evening. This has been the custom of the druggists for a number of years.

WAGING WAR FOR SIDEWALK ROOM

NEW YORK AUTHORITIES RE-NEW FIGHT ON ENCROACHMENT

Corporation Counsel Will Continue Campaign for the Widening of Fifth Avenue.

New York, Nov. 9.—Holding that the old ordinances of 1833 and 1844, permitting property owners on Fifth avenue to enclose fifteen feet of sidewalk for stoops and courtyards are invalid, Corporation Counsel Ellison has decided to renew the fight begun on former Borough President Cantor for the widening of that thoroughfare.

It will be recalled that three years ago George W. Vanderbilt had to remove a portion of his house at Fifty-first street and Fifth avenue.

The supreme court decided last October against the Knickerbocker Trust company, which had erected some pillars and some marble steps in front of its new building at the northwest corner of Fifth avenue and Thirty-fourth street.

The court decided the company had no legal right to maintain house improvements there, although in having designed and constructed them the trust company was proceeding on familiar lines. The case has been appealed. If the court of last resort should decide on removals it probably will require the trust company to do some expensive alterations.

Many Property Owners Hit. In the meantime, according to official notice issued from the office of the corporation counsel, all other property owners on Fifth avenue who have any encroachments will be notified they must be removed.

The aim of the corporation counsel, if he can get the sidewalk encroachments removed, is to take steps to have the carriage-way of the street widened to accommodate the constantly increasing vehicle traffic. Because of the great vehicle traffic many attempts have been made in the past to restrict the use of Fifth avenue to pleasure vehicles and lighter delivery wagons, so the big, heavy laden, slow going trucks will not take up so much of the room. Some attempts to restrict traffic on Fifth avenue were made while the subway excavators had possession of Fourth avenue, and it was absolutely necessary for trucks and many other kinds of heavily laden conveyances to use Fifth avenue.

Among the prominent structures along Fifth avenue that may be required to move or modify their porches, yards, etc., are the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, which has an ornamental garden on the sidewalk space in front of the hotel on Fifth avenue side; Sherry's open air cafe on Fifth avenue, the lawn of the Whitney residence at Fifty-seventh street and Fifth avenue, and the costly wrought iron fence of Cornelius Vanderbilt, inclosing his house and grounds.

Would Make Scenic View. Dozens of minor buildings and residences would have to make changes that would aggregate millions of dollars, and there is no denial of the fact that from an architectural and scenic standpoint Fifth avenue would be considerably altered. If not materially marred, but the theory of the corporation counsel, like that of former Borough President Cantor, is that what Fifth avenue loses in beauty the city in general would gain in convenience.

North of Fifty-ninth street most property owners have taken care to keep their improvements within their own land and have not encroached on city property, although a lot of front steps would have to come off.

Thomas Hardy is the best of the present day English novelists. Of late years he has turned to writing of world dramas, which are weary and futile. From the publication of 'The Greenwood Tree' down to his latest novel, his output is the best of any living writer of English fiction.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 9.—"It was the mistake of Mr. Kipling's literary career, although, of course, better for his personal happiness, that he did not die of pneumonia when he was ill in New York some years ago," said Prof. William Lyon Phelps, of Yale, yesterday, in his lecture on "The Modern Novel," at College Street hall.

"Mr. Kipling," he said, "is now like a man who is in constant terror that he will say something commonplace, and his work seems to me to show a frightful striving for effect."

"When the first of Kipling's stories appeared the public said, 'If he can do these stories at 25, what will he do when he is 40?' Well, he is 40 now, and what has he done? 'Stuffy and Company' is, I think, the worst book

I have ever read, and for his stories of machinery I prefer to read a treatise of the subject in an encyclopedia.

"Russia today leads the world in novel writers, followed by France and England. I am speaking now of literature, and not of the works of Hall Caine and Marie Corelli. May Sinclair's 'Divine Fire' had undoubtedly some of the fire in it, but the flame is occasionally hidden by smoke. Hitchcock's 'Garden of Allah' is melodramatic and overladen with description. His 'Call of the Blood' is better, but I think the main character is drawn from Hawthorne's 'Marble Faun'."

"Mary Cholmondeley's writings contain a certain kind of grim humor which makes her work effective. This author's name, by the way, ought to be investigated by the committee of spelling reform, for it could be reduced to one-quarter of its present length, and still have enough letters to give the correct pronunciation."

"The Thomas Hardy is the best of the present day English novelists. Of late years he has turned to writing of world dramas, which are weary and futile. From the publication of 'The Greenwood Tree' down to his latest novel, his output is the best of any living writer of English fiction."

JAP PAPER WARNS AMERICANS.

Jiji Shimo Regrets that Californians Are Obdurate.

Tokio, Nov. 9.—The Jiji Shimo, commenting on the trouble with the United States, says that while the educated Japanese fully appreciate the attitude of the Washington government, and realize that its intentions are fair, they regret that the obduracy of the Californians in regard to the treatment of the Japanese in that state necessitates a settlement of the question by the courts.

The paper adds that it fears the effect of slow legal process upon a majority of the people to whom San Francisco means America. Propinquity strengthened the appeal for contributions for the relief of the earthquake sufferers, and likewise accentuated popular resentment, which, despite the persuasions of the educated minority, seems likely to attain the dimensions of national bitterness towards all America, which seriously will affect future social and trade relations.

The Jiji Shimo prays the Californians to consider the serious consequences on their exclusiveness.

SERVICE LIFE OF BIG GUNS SHORT

TWELVE-INCH COAST DEFENSE
CANNON QUICKLY WORN.

General Crozier Says They Are Not Serviceable After Sixty Rounds of Fire.

Washington, Nov. 9.—That the 12-inch guns now in use at most of the coast fortifications of the United States would not last through an engagement of two hours, the period that would elapse from the time the leading vessel of a fleet would come within the range until the last vessel would pass beyond the range of the guns, is the statement made by Brigadier General William Crozier, chief of ordnance, whose annual report was made public at the war department today.

General Crozier thinks that it is of the utmost importance that some method be devised whereby the necessary gun power can be secured with less expense than that involved in using the very high velocities of projectiles now employed, with the accompanying rapid wearing away of the rifling, in such a manner as to destroy the accuracy of the gun after a few rounds.

Will Last Sixty Rounds.
The 12-inch gun will last for about sixty rounds and as the gun is capable of firing for a considerable interval at the rate of forty-five rounds per hour, it can be seen that the limit of the life of this gun could be reached in less than an hour and a half.

Similar statements can be made with regard to guns of smaller calibres, says the report, although as the calibre diminishes the admissible velocity increases. By lowering the velocity of the 12-inch projectile from 2,500 feet to 2,250 feet per second the life of the gun is increased to 200 rounds. The penetration of armor is reduced by the process, that of the 12-inch gun at 10,000 yards coming down from about 10 1/2 inches to about 9 inches and the range at which its projectile would penetrate 12 inches of armor plate being reduced from about 8,000 yards to about 6,000 yards.

Fourteen-Inch Gun Better.
The chief of ordnance states that it appears that by using in the situations requiring the greatest power a 14-inch gun with 2,150 feet per second velocity of projectile, instead of the 12-inch gun, with 2,500 feet per second initial velocity, the army would secure a better gun and a gun which would last four times as long. General Crozier states that the Taft board for the revision of the report of the Endicott board on coast defenses recommended this gun and that the department has decided to use it in place of the 12-inch gun in situations where the highest power is required and the 12-inch gun as a maximum calibre has been abandoned.

General Crozier says that plans and specifications are in preparation for the army smokeless powder factory, for which congress at its last session appropriated $165,000, and that upon the selection of the site the work of erection will be pushed vigorously to completion, but the site has not been selected.

Small Arms Equipment.
In speaking of small arms, the general states the magazine rifle, 1903 model, was supplied in the regular troops in the United States for their use during the target practice and that the improved rifle of 1905 model, with knife bayonet and rear sight, has been issued to the troops in the Philippine Islands and will be issued to the troops in the states and the first issue recalled. As a result of tests during the year, some changes have been made in the magazine rifle which will eventually render them satisfactory for service use. The manufacture of small arms ammunition is somewhat more expensive than formerly, due to the increase in the cost of brass and lead.

Among the changes made in the equipment issued to cavalry, infantry and artillery during the year was that of the cup, which was formerly made of steel heavily tinned and which is now made of aluminum, adopted after an extensive trial.

New Guns for Militia Batteries.
General Crozier states that a number of militia batteries have been supplied with the new three-inch field artillery material and others are being rapidly furnished with it.

In a chapter in regard to the personnel, General Crozier refers to the act of June 25 last authorizing details from the line to that department after examination and says that under the stimulus of that law the personnel will be recruited as rapidly as the consideration that too many officers shall not go out at the same time by expiration of detail renders desirable.

PAIN IN BACK AND LIMBS

Is Pretty Sure to Mean Rheumatism.

Take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at First Symptom.

The Remedy That Permanently Cured this Michigan Man and His Wife.

Do not neglect the first warning symptoms of rheumatism.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured many cases of this disease in advanced stages, but much time can be saved and unnecessary suffering avoided by beginning the treatment as soon as the first pain in the joints, the first twinges in the muscles, gives notice of the approach of the trouble.

Mr. Frank Little, a well known citizen of Portland, Iowa Co., Mich., was cured of a severe case of rheumatism by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.
In speaking about it recently, he said: "I never work I was obliged to be out in all kinds of weather and many times I would come home wet through and completely exhausted.
I worried a great deal and I think this, along with my constant ex-posure to the cold and damp, hastened my sickness. My body was run down and in no condition to withstand disease and about five years ago I began to feel rheumatic pains in my arms and across my back.
My arms and legs grew numb and the rheumatism seemed to settle in every joint so that I could hardly move, while my arms were useless at times. I was unable to sleep or rest well and my heart pained me so terribly I could hardly stand it. My stomach became sour and bloated after eating and this grew so bad that I had inflammation of the stomach. I was extremely nervous and could not bear the least noise or excitement. One whole side of my body became paralyzed.

"As I said before, I had been suffering about five years and seemed to be able to get no relief from my doctors, when a friend here in Portland told me how Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured him of neuralgia in the face, even after the pain had drawn it to one side. I decided to try the pills and began to see some improvement soon after using them.
This encouraged me to keep on until I was entirely cured. I have never had a return of the rheumatism or of the paralysis.

"My wife was also troubled in about the same way that I was. She had rheumatism in the joints and stiffness and numbness in the neck.
The pills completely cured her and she has never had another attack of the rheumatism."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make rich, new blood and have cured such diseases as rheumatism, nervous and general debility, indigestion, neuritis, nervous headaches, neuralgia and even partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia.

These pills are for sale by all druggists or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CAT-TARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY.
As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians as the damage they do is ten fold of the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J.
Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co.

No, the Pianola Piano does not play itself—it is not automaeach time a repetition of a performance identically the same.

You are the one who does the playing and a large part of the enjoyment comes from putting your own personality into the rendition, seeing how much expression you can give, how many different ways you can play a given composition and which is the best way.

WOLFFS' Retiring from Business Sale

and Low Prices

Have enlightened Fort Wayne buyers. Never before were such GIGANTIC BARGAINS given the people of Indiana in

Bright, Fresh, All New Goods

as we now herald right at the very commencement of the busy season. There is only one way to realize the true nature of this brilliant Trade Event and that is to see the merchandise offered here at figures that are simply impossible for any firm in the state of Indiana to even approach.

Any Man, Woman or Child who spends even as much as one dollar for Clothing, Hats, Shoes and Furnishing Goods at any other store in the state during this great Sale, positively throws fully one-half their money away.

FORT WAYNE'S GREATEST CLOTHIERS

WAMBACH IS LET GO.

Said He Couldn't Remember Anything About It at All.

Matthew Wambach, who recently had R. F. Rosenow arrested for false representations, came into the city court this morning after he had been defaulted and asked a retreating on a charge of drunkenness and got off from a fine of $1 and costs that had been assessed.

He says he took a few drinks yesterday and the next thing he knew he was being loaded into the patrol wagon down in Swinney park. He got out last night on bond.

John Slattery and Paul Speckman, en route by freight from Omaha to Pittsburg, were ditched here for train climbing and Judge Skelton told them they could look around for work and if they failed to find it they must hike.

Floyd Traxler entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assault and battery and was fined $1 and costs. John J. Steinman was the complaining witness.

OLD SKAT PARTNER QUITS.

The Kaiser's Minister of Agriculture Has Decided to Resign.

Berlin, Nov. 8.—It is announced that Herr Von Podbielski, minister of agriculture, and the emperor's favorite companion at skat, has decided to resign. Herr Von Podbielski has had an unusual career for a cabinet officer, slipping from a commander of cavalry into the higher civil service without any training in the lower grades. The emperor appointed him minister of posts in 1897, and he organized the telephone system and brought about the direct cable between the United States and Germany. He was transferred to the Prussian ministry of agriculture in 1901.

Notwithstanding his administrative talent, Herr Von Podbielski has got into deep difficulties, principally because he took up the extreme agrarian view that Germany was able to raise at home enough animals to supply the national demand for meat. He refused to agree to the opening of the frontiers to the importation of cattle, in which he was opposed by the imperial chancery. Prince Von Bismarck, a study press campaign was waged against him on that score, and the assertion that he or his relatives were past owners of a firm supplying the colonial armies with high-priced goods made Podbielski's position untenable. It has been rumored for weeks that his retirement on account of ill health is certain.

MURDERED WOMAN IDENTIFIED.
Case of Love Caused Lincoln Park Tragedy in Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 9.—The woman who was last night shot and killed in Lincoln park by a man who afterward committed suicide was today identified as Mary Ray, a domestic employed at 590 Levee avenue. The man is said to be Charles Grant, who was in love with the Ray girl. No cause for the shooting is known, but it is believed by the acquaintances of the girl to be due to the refusal of the girl to marry him immediately. The girl came to Chicago from a small town near Watertown, Wis.

POPE WILL HOLD CONSISTORY.
Rome, Nov. 9.—The Pope has decided to hold a consistory December 8.

THIEVES LOOT HARTJE MANSION.

Goods Valued at $20,000 Disposed of for $200.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 9.—Augustus Hartje, the millionaire paper manufacturer who has been trying to get a divorce from his wife, again is in hard luck. When he started suit for divorce several months ago he abandoned the mansion filled with costly furnishings. A gang of thieves, headed by Oscar Edelson, who says he is a New Yorker, looted the house taking goods valued at over $20,000, for all of which they got but $200.

Among the articles stolen was a statuette of Romeo and Juliet, valued at $5,000, which Hartje gave to his wife as a wedding gift. It was found yesterday in the possession of W. R. Heller, millionaire grocer, who is said to have paid $8 for it. Heller was arrested.

Hartje does not care much what has become of the property, with the exception of a Stradivarius violin, which cost $500. Edelson says he sold it to an unknown man on the street for $150. Among the stolen property was an oil painting valued at $2,000. It was sold for $2. Rugs worth $1,000 each brought $6 and $8.

TEXAS RANGERS ATTACKED.

Armed Mexicans Open Fire and Bloody Fight Ensues.

Brownsville, Tex., Nov. 9.—A detachment of Texas rangers en route to Rio Grande City to investigate the assassination of Judge Welch, which occurred Monday night, was attacked by a body of armed Mexicans and a bloody fight resulted. One Mexican was killed and many wounded. Governor Lammam is rushing troops to the scene and the situation is regarded as critical. More fighting is expected before the troops arrive. The Mexicans are said to be aroused over the opposition to their voting in the recent election.

HEARINGS ARE WAIVED.

Pullman Company to Stand Trial in Milk Cases.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 9.—Representatives of the Pullman Car company waived hearings today in this suit brought by the pure food agents alleging their use of formaldehyde in the milk served to passengers on Pullman cars. The cases will come up for trial at the December term of court. Similar hearings in sixteen cases at Greensburg and seven at Beaver Falls were also waived.

WISCONSIN JAIL ATTACKED.

Lynchers Attempt to Hang Man Suspected of Brutal Assault.

Spring Green, Wis., Nov. 9.—An attempt was made yesterday to storm the jail and lynch Thomas Ruff, who is accused of having assaulted Mrs. Edward Frank. The mob was led by three brothers of the woman. The sheriff, however, managed to get the mob out of the jail through a back door and took him to Baraboo for safe keeping.

Mrs. Frank was attacked while in the outskirts of the city Tuesday night. An unknown man, who she says, was Ruff, pressed a revolver to her head. He then threw her over a fence and dragged her from place to place.

When the townspeople heard of the attack a posse was organized, but the suspect got away. Wednesday Ruff was caught on a train and taken to Madison, and he was brought here yesterday. The farmers declare they will hang Ruff if he is returned here for trial.

POTTERY WORKS BURNED.

Plant at Chaseland, Ohio, Gone and 200 Persons Idle.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 9.—A $50,000 factory visited the plant of the Columbus pottery company located at Chaseland, practically destroying the front half of the building. The blaze originated in a new kiln in the center of the building and after communicating with the wood work of the structure, spread to all parts of the front portion of the building. Two hundred people are thrown out of employment.

WEDS FOR PRICE: DEMANDS PAY.

Vienna, Nov. 9.—Baron Liebenberg, the impoverished Austrian nobleman who recently married Marie Sulzer, an actress, for a fixed price and then was refused payment, now says if Prince Joachim does not compensate him before he goes to Africa for the loan he assumed in marrying the woman he will sue her for the restitution of his conjugal rights. If she then refuses to live with him he will sue her for divorce on the grounds of desertion.

HEAR DEPOSITIONS IN DEFENSE.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 9.—The hearing of the depositions of the defense in the ouster suit of the state of Missouri against the Standard, Waters-Pierce and Ice and Public Oil companies, was resumed today. C. L. Akert, general manager of the Waters-Pierce company, who was the sole witness yesterday, was again on the witness stand today.

WILL MAKE THREE ADDRESSES HERE

REV. F. E. TAYLOR, GIFTED BAPTIST CLERGYMAN.

Has Prominent Place on Program of the State Y. M. C. A. Convention Nov. 22 to 25.

One of the prominent speakers at the state convention of the Young Men's Christian association, to be held in Fort Wayne Nov. 22 to 25, is Rev. Frederick E. Taylor, pastor of the First Baptist church at Indianapolis, who is scheduled to deliver three addresses during the convention.

Rev. Mr. Taylor has long been known as one of the most forcible preachers in the east, particularly effective in his appeals to men, and has frequently been called out into evangelistic work by Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman and others. When Rev. Dr. Villers was called from the First Baptist church at Indianapolis to a still larger eastern church the Indianapolis congregation arranged with Rev. Mr. Taylor to supply for the summer, and were so pleased with him that they extended him a call to become their permanent pastor. He is very active in the work of the Young Men's Christian association.

E. E. Stacy, state secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and his associate, J. M. Moore, were in the city over night on business in connection with the coming convention.

Complete Local Committees.

Map Showing the Route to Be Taken by the President on His Trip to Panama and Return.

Tomorrow, Saturday Morning,

At 10 o'clock will commence a Special Sale of 24 Choice Lots in Lakeside Park Addition.

THESE lots are 43x150 feet and are just at the end of the Lake Avenue Asphalt Pavement, and front on Lake, Crescent and California Avenues. Lots have been graded and a five foot cement sidewalk laid in front of them. They adjoin the site of the proposed new City Park and most of the lots have standing upon them fine forest trees. Notwithstanding these lots are within 100 feet of lots that are selling for $1,000 each, the low prices of from $400 to $650 have been fixed upon them. Such prices ought to sell every lot within three days. MR. LOUIS F. CURDES, who has charge of this Special Sale, will have an agent on the ground all day, each day, to show the lots until they are all sold. These lots will be sold on the easy terms of $10.00 down and $5.00 per month, with interest at 6 per cent. per annum on deferred payments. A Special discount of 5 per cent. for cash will be allowed, if paid within 30 days. Take particular notice that there are but 24 of these lots and if you propose to secure one you must act very quickly. They ought to double in price within two years.

PROF. BURGESS HAS GRIEVANCE.

Complains That Allusion to Monroe Doctrine Is Misunderstood.

Berlin, Nov. 9.—Prof. Burgess complains bitterly that his allusion to the Monroe doctrine is misunderstood and misunderstood. So far as known, however, he has not yet explained in what respects he considers the doctrine antiquated. This has given rise to the belief that he is on the eve of making a modification or recantation. American authorities have nothing to do with the possible recall of Prof. Burgess. The matter wholly is in the hands of the Prussian ministry of education, which is responsible for his appointment as lecturer.

ADDS TO CONSCIENCE FUND.

Nebraska Congressman, Criticized for Act, Sends Back $1,900.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 9.—E. M. Pollard, republican congressman from the First district, last night mailed a check to the sergeant at arms of the house at Washington, returning $1,900, salary for a portion of the term he did not serve. Pollard was elected to fill an unexpired term and he claims he followed custom in collecting salary for the whole term.

His action was made a campaign issue by the democrats. Pollard did nothing during the campaign, but after his reelection he mailed the check.

The money will probably be added to the national conscience fund.

NEW IRISH RULE PLANNED.

Draft of Reform Measure Provides for Degree of Autonomy.

Dublin, Nov. 9.—A plan for the reorganization of the government of Ireland has been drafted by members of the British cabinet and Irish parliamentary leaders—a plan that if carried into effect will give Ireland a measure of home rule.

The plan provides for the establishment of a central or caste board, for an educational department, a department of agriculture and for the transfer of land. It also creates an Irish council, to which from two-thirds to three-fourths of the members are to be elected on the existing parliamentary franchise and the rest on a restricted franchise. Clergymen of all denominations are to be eligible to membership in the council.

Ireland is to retain her present representation in parliament. The police are to remain under imperial control, but the force will be reduced numerically. The judiciary is unaffected.

Those active in drafting the plan were James Bryce, chief secretary for Ireland; John Redmond, leader of the Irish party in the house of commons; John Dillon, member of parliament for East Mayo, and Sir Anthony MacDonnel, under secretary to the earl of Aberdeen, lord lieutenant of Ireland.

Mr. Redmond and Mr. Dillon strongly opposed the police and the judiciary clauses, but it was pointed out to them that certain members of the cabinet were obdurate on these questions. The proposed measure is not yet complete but the essential features have been settled definitely and the entire cabinet is agreed thereon.

WHEAT RAISERS MUST LEARN

Crop Can Be Doubled by the Right Kind of Farming.

By F. O. Sibley.

How can we double our wheat crop? That is a question which no farmer believes can be successfully answered, but it is a fact that by proper methods it can be done.

If we cannot increase our winter wheat yield 20 per cent, we ought to quit and go into something else. Rotation of crops, the right kind of fertilizers, good seed and a perfect seed bed are the main things.

The seed bed for winter wheat must be perfect, the same as for other grain if one expects a good crop. It cannot be neglected. The land in the first place should be plowed just as soon as the previous crop has been removed, for this allows it to become compact before seeding time in September or early October.

In order to keep the upper layers pulverized and form a dust mulch which will prevent the escape of valuable soil moisture, it should be harrowed or disked as often as weed growths spring up. These pests will thus be got rid of to a great extent, especially in ground full of weed seeds, the young plants being killed before even the earliest of them have a chance to produce seed for further mischief. Persistent perennials, like copper-burn, jimson weed and velvet-leaf cannot be subdued, of course, quite as easily as this; but if the treatment in question can be continued two or three years on land infested by them they will be greatly thinned in number, if not entirely eradicated.

The ground should be plowed from four and one-half to six inches deep and it must all be turned over, otherwise when drilling is done the seed will not be evenly covered. If plowing is delayed until late on account of dry weather or because the crop growing on the land cannot be removed until just before seeding time the ground should be compacted by a roller drag, disk or smoothing harrow.

Failure to do this in case of late plowing is apt to result in a poor crop of wheat; so much so that in order to be on the safe side the ground should usually be gone over four or five times. With a good drill and the surface soil well tined the seed may then be put in with good assurance of success.

No matter what the condition of the soil may be, however, a great deal depends upon its fertility—the manner by which it has been specially enriched with regard to growing wheat. For though fertilizers may be applied after the crop is seeded, it is better as a rule to do this beforehand. Stable manure spread on in moderate quantities just prior to plowing will almost certainly bring a better growth.

Of all ways top dressing the sub-sequently plowed soil is the best. Manure thus applied will seldom cause wheat to lodge the elements in it which contribute to making the straw too heavy, being consumed without any detriment to the wheat by the grass crop.

Barley, oats and wheat feed upon the same kind of food and the general tendency in all these is the same, that is to relieve the soil of its fertility. No one of them puts any amount of humus in the soil. If, therefore, fertility is not to decrease or if the mechanical condition of the soil is to be maintained, other crops must be introduced into the rotation.

The summer fallow does not improve land in the sense of bringing fertility to it. Some farmers cherish the view that it does. It cannot do so since it puts nothing into the soil when kept clean. And some of the nitrates in the same are liable to seep out of the soil into the subsoil and to pass away with the drainage water when there is any considerable amount of rainfall. Good crops usually follow summer fallowing for the reason, first, that it cleans the land; second, that it liberates inert fertility; third, that it tends to firm the soil which in some prairie sections is an important consideration.

Many farmers favor the introduction of a grass crop into the rotation for the reason, first, that it helps to clean the land, and second, that it fills it with humus which is very beneficial to the tilth and the retentive powers of the same.

When a good soil has been formed on land the benefits on the same when plowed will be present for three or four years in succession in prairie soils, especially in states as far north as Illinois.

A New Land Swindle.

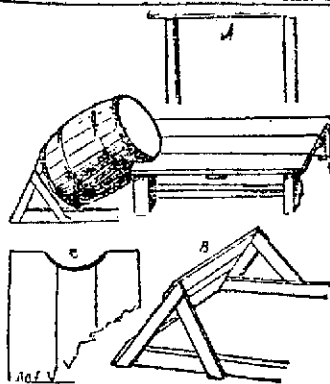

Farmers in Hancock County, Illinois, and in some parts of Iowa, have been swindled by southwestern schemers who pretend to be land agents. These farmers secured options on certain land, in each case making a small payment to secure the option. The lands were to be taken only after examination and when they proved satisfactory.

The papers, which were signed in each case, now turn up as iron-clad notes or agreements to take the land and pay the full price. Lawyers have been engaged to help the swindled ones out of the hole, but it is doubtful if they can save their money.

When farmers never learn not to sign papers presented by strangers, without first showing them to their lawyer or banker? Sign nothing until you know that you are safe. Do not be in a hurry to buy anything, particularly land. There will be land for sale in this great country one hundred years from now.

How the Worm Family Grows.

An earthworm has more methods of increasing its family than a top onion. They lay eggs by the thousands and every egg is sure to hatch. Then, after laying season is over, the female will pull out little pink spines and every spine of this sort will grow into a worm and drop off and crawl away just as if it was the most approved way of making worms. Finally, when the worms become old and fat, they seem to break in two from their own weight, and instead of going to a worm hospital or blending to death, as they should do, the wound heals up right away and there are two perfect worms where there had been only one.

For Folding Hogs.

The platform should be about eight feet square, if large hogs are to be handled. The picture shows the detail of the frame for holding the barrel, and also the cut-out in the platform. The frame should be fixed firmly to the ground by means of stakes. The hanging pole will be seen in the rear of the platform.

Farm Butchering Appliance.

Much of the disagreeable work of butchering on the farm might be avoided if one would take the trouble to have the necessary conveniences. As a rule, make-shifts are used and the work is made much more difficult in consequence. Try the following plan and build the structure described. First build a low and strong platform, having it large enough so that there will be no danger of those at work on it stepping off. It should be made of lumber faced on the top side and made extra strong by cross pieces underneath. The legs are short but stout and well braced. At one end cut out a place so that the barrel described may rest in this opening properly. In order that the barrel may not be overturned accidentally a strong brace is made in the form of a frame in which the barrel rests and this is well braced. The barrel is used for scalding purposes. The whole arrangement is simple and easily constructed. At the rear of the platform a scaffold is erected, being simply a strong piece of studding mounted on heavy posts set in the ground; this part of the structure will need to remain while the rest of it can be taken indoors if desired. The illustration shows the plan clearly. Figure C showing the curve in the platform cut for the scalding barrel, figure B the form of construction of the brace set back of the barrel and figure A the scaffold.

WORLD'S BIGGEST CORNFIELD.

Fifteen Thousand Acres Owned and Worked by An Iowa Man.

Iowa has the biggest corn farm in the world. Beside it, the Rankin farm in Missouri, looks like a ten-acre lot. This farm, owned by a man named Adams, near Odessa, has 15,000 acres in corn. It is expected to yield nearly a half million bushels.

Before long 200 men will start on the 15,000 acres of corn, which will all be husked from the shock. Then the stalks will be shredded for the fat cattle before spring.

This cornfield is the largest in the world. The full 15,000 acres was planted with tested seed and is expected to yield an average of more than thirty-five bushels to the acre. This is considered a small average for Iowa corn this season.

Thirty-seven double stalk cutters will be used to bind the corn in the field this fall. Mules are employed almost everywhere to do the heavy draft work on the farm, and there are over 200 of these animals kept there constantly. Mr. and Mrs. Adams and family are at present at their winter home in Chicago, and the farm is in the hands of its manager.

With the exception of a large number of feeders which are purchased every fall, no cattle are raised on the big farm except enough milk cows to keep the help supplied with milk. Last winter Mr. Adams had 6,000 sheep brought from his North Dakota ranch for feeding, and it is announced that he will do it again this winter as soon as the present yardful of cattle has been marketed.

The affairs at the farm are conducted with as much system as in any large business office in the city. There is a main office and headquarters where the manager of the farm has his desk. It is here that Mr. Adams himself passes a large part of his time in summer.

The farm is divided into sections, and each part is under the direction of sub-foreman and worked by his force of men.

All the houses of the employees are located in one place near the center of the farm, making a small town. A schoolhouse is also erected here for the children of the workers. The farm and its methods are a revelation to the visitor.

Adams is an enthusiast for good roads, and all through the place he has built handsome driveways.

There is another farm in Sao county, Iowa, which contains 6,000 acres. The land there is not all tilled as in the Adams ranch, and hence it is not of so general interest to the public.

IN THE SHEEP FOLD.

Champions of the Dorsets claim they will put any dog to flight. That may be true, but what western sheep raiser would like to have a breed that will kill a wolf.

The farmers of Canada feed cabbage to their sheep and regard it very highly. It keeps the animals in fine condition.

If you have not put away a good lot of clover or alfalfa hay, you will feel the need of it in your flock before the lambs begin to come in the spring.

Sheep raisers have good years and bad years, just the same as the raisers of wheat, or corn, or cattle, or anything else. It is the man who sticks to sheep raising as a definite department of farming that wins in the long run.

Any good farmer who loves sheep and gives them the proper attention, can have an income of $500.00 per year from 100 good ewes.

Some men who keep sheep do not realize that dampness is bad for them. They should never be allowed to run in low, wet pastures, and it is absolutely essential that the floor of the sheep fold be kept dry and clean.

Sheep are the most nervous animals in the world. Never allow anything to frighten the flock, if possible. Sheep have been known to die from nervous shock, produced by fright.

The man who had a few hundred pounds of wool to sell this fall is not making any complaint about the sheep industry.

If you expect your ewes to produce strong, vigorous lambs, it follows that you cannot starve them this winter. They must be kept on good food, else the lambs will be puny, and if dropped in bad weather, the loss will be heavy.

In some counties in Iowa and in Ohio as well, it is reported that farmers have given up raising sheep because of the heavy losses from dogs. If they cannot obtain the enforcement of proper laws against the dogs, shot-gun works very well.

Turn the sheep into the orchard; this fall and let them clean up the grass and small weeds.

If you are near a good market for mutton, it will pay much better to raise Shropshires, or some other good mutton breed, than to depend upon wool for your profit.

If you have a few acres of rough, high land, that will make fairly good pasture, it will pay to put a flock of sheep on it. It may not support horses or cattle, but sheep will make it profitable.

The advantage the farmer who raises sheep has over his neighbor who does not, is that he has two crops a year—a crop of wool and a crop of mutton.

Good Steer Fattens Best.

Farmers should not feed good corn to poor cattle. There is no guess work about the results of cattle feeding. This has been shown by the most careful experiments many times, and the farmer who shovels his good corn and hay into poor steers is playing a losing game.

Take the experiments conducted at the Illinois Station: It was shown that about 52.11 per cent, or a little more than two-thirds of the digestible matter fed, was in the form of concentrates, such as corn and cob, cotton seed and oil meal; and 30.83 per cent was fed in form of roughages, such as clover, timothy, alfalfa and corn stover.

Except in one case, the total amount of dry matter consumed varied with the grade of steers. The better the grade or the better the feed, the larger the consumption of dry matter.

The consumption of dry matter did not follow as uniformly the variations in weights of the cattle. It did not necessarily follow that because one lot of steers was heavier than another, it would consume more feed and consequently more dry matter.

Weight certainly does have a marked influence upon capacity and demand for feed, but the records of this test appear to indicate that the possibility of large consumption is also dependent upon the grade or quality of the cattle.

Digging Potatoes by Machinery.

WHISKERS NOT FOR THE DAIRY.

California Veterinarians Declare Hirsute Appendage Spreads Disease
Among Cattle.

Whiskers and clear milk do not go well together. Whiskers must part company with cows if the Veterinary Association of California has influence, for it has recently declared that long, uncombed, unwashed hair on the face, while good throat protectors in cold weather, are a menace to the health of the public and also spread disease among the cows of the state.

The veterinarians, by unanimous vote, passed resolutions demanding that the California legislature enact a law requiring dairymen to shave off

Care of Flowers for Winter.

Princess Bonnie, Clothilde Souper and Pink Souper are peerless winter bloomers, but must be kept free from insects.

Little can be done these cold, dark days except care for the plants and plan for better times next year.

Do not wrap the out-door shrubs and rose bushes until settled cold weather. Give them good mulching, and give the bulb-bed a covering.

Do not forget to subscribe for a good floral magazine, and when you get it study its contents and keep it for reference.

For the house plant, a teaspoonful of dry, pulverized hen manure to a quart of water, applied once a week after growth begins, is good.

Lay down some of the hybrid perpetual rose plants this winter, and note the difference, if any, in bloom next year.

Make cuttings of carnations in December, January or February; root in light sandy soil, and not singly; keep in a temperature of about 50 degrees. Cuttings from side shoots are best.

If you burn gas, or have a hard coal base burner that "leaks," do not indulge in "great expectations." Gas does not agree with plant life. You can grow plants only by the greatest care, in such a case.

If you notice fine webs of what seems to be reddish or gray dust on the foliage of house plants, look out for the red spider. A magnifying glass of very low power will show its presence, and even the naked eye, if a sharp one, can detect it. It is a persistent pest in the dry air of the living-room, being especially fond of roses, which it soon destroys. It is readily routed by spraying with cold water. Spray often, especially on the under side of the leaves, and it will give little annoyance.

The calla is one of the old favorites still holding a prominent place in the list of house plants, plenty of sunshine, and warm water. By heating bricks twice a day and placing under the pot, buds will be hurried along rapidly. One can easily do this by alternating two sets of bricks, the one heating while the other is in use. A second bud usually comes out from the same sheath as the first. Take heed lest in cutting off the withered blossom you also decapitate the second bud, which it encloses.

The casti, century plant, and most sub-tropical species which remain dormant in winter may be safely housed in a frost-proof cellar if there is too much moisture.

A teaspoonful of ammonia in a quart of water once a week is an easy and convenient way of supplying liquid fertilizer.

In forcing hardy bulbs for winter blooming, the common mistake is in keeping them too warm.

This is a good time to examine the barn roof. Sometimes a hole no bigger than a man's thumb will cause $25 damage to the hay during one winter.

Why is it that more farmers do not engage in the business of raising Shetland or Welch ponies? This little beast requires less care than any other farm animal, and it will breed brings from $100 to $200 at three years old.

The man who smokes a pipe around the barn, or allows the hired man to do it, is generally the fellow who has let his insurance run out just before the fire.

A ring placed in a cow's nose will prevent her sucking. She can neither suck herself nor another cow.

The Hogs Own Door.

Fall will soon be here with its cold nights and if the hogs have to sleep out and shiver they won't be making altogether satisfactory gains. Here is a plan for a hog door that we have found very satisfactory.

The door is made of three ordinary boards with battens on the inside, the wider one at the bottom. The door is made as to have a quarter-inch space all around, between it and the frame. A half-inch iron rod is fastened across the upper battens with eye bolts. This gives the door free play to swing in and out. The ends of the rods run into the door-frame on each side, and a self-closing hog door, to prevent the door from blowing, an iron collar is slipped on the rod each side of the door.

From personal experience we believe it solves the problem of cold or being fed.

Do not put more than fifteen birds in one poultry house, particularly if you are feeding up a good flock and want to maintain the birds in the very best condition. Some people may say this is nonsense, but it isn't.

You may have a thousand bushels of corn on the place and still not have enough of the right kind of feed for one hundred hens. They need potatoes, turnips, beets, cabbage, sprouts, and things of that kind as much as they need corn. It is never a good idea to feed whole corn, anyway.

Tie a head of cabbage to a string, draw it up just high enough to make the hens jump a few inches to reach it. This is good exercise for them on stormy days and the cabbage is good feed.

Mr. Greeley, editor of the Dakota Farmer, says hundreds of farmers in the northwest, who are independent today, got their start from a flock of hens. In the early days of droughts and poor crops, the hens produced the eggs and meat that brought ready money to the family.

Eggs are bringing 35 to 40 cents retail in Chicago now, and in some of the smaller towns throughout Illinois, they are selling at 30 to 33 cents. The demand is better than for years.

A flock of hens, like a baby, require constant attention if they would thrive. It cannot be neglected for a single day without serious injury.

Twenty drops of acetic acid in a quart of water will cure light colds in chickens. If acetic acid cannot be had, use forty drops of spirits of camphor in the same amount of water.

Jumping from high roosts bruises the feet of heavy birds and sometimes causes internal injuries. Roosts should never be more than four feet from the ground.

Since Prof. Kennedy's report that better beef is more highly esteemed in England than steer beef, great interest has been manifested in the matter in this country. Heifer beef may be much better than the other, but the question is, will the packing houses recognize the difference, and pay a better price for it?

Corn mills are often mentioned in the Bible. The original corn mill much resembled the modern drug-gist's pestle. Moses forbade corn mills to be taken in pawn, for that, he thought, was like taking a man's life in pledge.

Do not mix corn, raffin-corn or any other starchy feed with milk fed to calves. While the starch in the grain takes the place of fat in milk, its form must be changed to sugar before it is digestible. This change is effected by the alkaline fluids and chiefly by the saliva of the mouth. If the grain is gulped down with the milk, there is no time for the saliva to act as the gastric juice of the stomach is acid instead of alkaline, the starch is not acted upon until it reaches the intestines. The intestines of a calf are comparatively short and complete digestion cannot take place. In this respect a calf differs from a hog, which has a comparatively small stomach and long intestines. The hog may gobble down its starchy food without waiting for it to be acted upon by the saliva in the mouth, and it will be digested in the intestines.

How to Kill Mornling Glories.

The morning glory propagates from the root and every piece will throw up a sprout. Farmers that cultivate lands upon which this pest grows should be careful about dragging the weeds about with the cultivators and the farm tools, because every root will produce a new plant, thus spreading them over the farm very fast.

Morning glories are not so bad a pest as thistles, as they do not prick and interfere with handling the crops or in feeding, but they wind about the stalks of grain and corn and take the plant food and moisture away from the growing crop.

Take as much land as can be put in a good crop or summer fallow it plowing every week. One season's work extending through the hot, dry months will kill the morning glory. Sheep will prevent their spreading, but will not kill them. Hogs, if confined on small patches, will kill them, as they are fond of the roots and will go after every one.

COMMON SENSE CHICKEN TALK.

Few people know how much to feed chickens. A quart to a dozen is a good average.

Listerine is one of the best things that can be kept in the poultry house. It is an excellent remedy for ulcers, cuts and wounds.

A piece of copperas as large as a small pea, dissolved in three gallons of water, should be given chickens once a week.

Can anybody really justify the use of dropping boards?

This is fine weather for getting in road dust for the hens during the winter. It should be very fine and be kept perfectly dry. Give the hens plenty of it.

Sour milk makes eggs quicker and better than almost any other feed.

Do you know what roup is? Nothing more than a bad cold. When a hen's eyes look red and water runs from them, spray the throat and nostrils with burnt alum dissolved in camphorated oil. Listerine, one part to four parts of boiled water, is also a good remedy.

Chop some alfalfa hay, selecting the tender portions, and clover, too, if you have it, and feed to the hens two or three times a week. It should be thoroughly scalded before being fed.

Do not put more than fifteen birds in one poultry house, particularly if you are feeding up a good flock and want to maintain the birds in the very best condition. Some people may say this is nonsense, but it isn't.

You may have a thousand bushels of corn on the place and still not have enough of the right kind of feed for one hundred hens. They need potatoes, turnips, beets, cabbage, sprouts, and things of that kind as much as they need corn. It is never a good idea to feed whole corn, anyway.

Tie a head of cabbage to a string, draw it up just high enough to make the hens jump a few inches to reach it. This is good exercise for them

on stormy days and the cabbage is good feed.

Mr. Greeley, editor of the Dakota Farmer, says hundreds of farmers in the northwest, who are independent today, got their start from a flock of hens. In the early days of droughts and poor crops, the hens produced the eggs and meat that brought ready money to the family.

Eggs are bringing 35 to 40 cents retail in Chicago now, and in some of the smaller towns throughout Illinois, they are selling at 30 to 33 cents. The demand is better than for years.

A flock of hens, like a baby, require constant attention if they would thrive. It cannot be neglected for a single day without serious injury.

Twenty drops of acetic acid in a quart of water will cure light colds in chickens. If acetic acid cannot be had, use forty drops of spirits of camphor in the same amount of water.

Jumping from high roosts bruises the feet of heavy birds and sometimes causes internal injuries. Roosts should never be more than four feet from the ground.

Since Prof. Kennedy's report that better beef is more highly esteemed in England than steer beef, great interest has been manifested in the matter in this country. Heifer beef may be much better than the other, but the question is, will the packing houses recognize the difference, and pay a better price for it?

Corn mills are often mentioned in the Bible. The original corn mill much resembled the modern drug-gist's pestle. Moses forbade corn mills to be taken in pawn, for that, he thought, was like taking a man's life in pledge.

Do not mix corn, raffin-corn or any other starchy feed with milk fed to calves. While the starch in the grain takes the place of fat in milk, its form must be changed to sugar before it is digestible. This change is effected by the alkaline fluids and chiefly by the saliva of the mouth. If the grain is gulped down with the milk, there is no time for the saliva to act as the gastric juice of the stomach is acid instead of alkaline, the starch is not acted upon until it reaches the intestines. The intestines of a calf are comparatively short and complete digestion cannot take place. In this respect a calf differs from a hog, which has a comparatively small stomach and long intestines. The hog may gobble down its starchy food without waiting for it to be acted upon by the saliva in the mouth, and it will be digested in the intestines.

TO KEEP UP ORCHARDS.

Methods of Culture That Will Bring Good Returns in Money.

Professor E. Walker of the Arkansas experiment station summarizes the successful methods of caring for orchards in that state. In rejuvenating an orchard of 27 acres of old searing trees, good cultivation, pruning, spraying and the use of both stable manure and commercial fertilizers were given. The work was begun in 1914, and in 1915 about 534 barrels of No. 1 apples were secured, having a value of $2,677.57, and $240 worth of No. 2 culls and vinegar apples, while the expense of production was $88.50.

An uncut orchard in the same locality yielded, in comparison, but 70 barrels of poor No. 2 apples. The results of analysis of the soil and subsoil in the orchard rejuvenated show considerably less than half of the humus normally present in average southern soils. In newer ground the humus was greatest in the surface soil, but in the older land it was greatest in the subsoil.

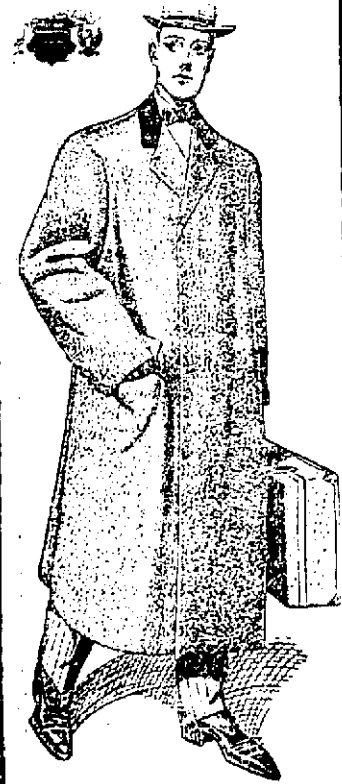

Attention was called to the injury to apples by the green narrow-winged leaved, Scudder's toxicosis. This insect injured from three to five per cent of the fruit on many trees. The injury consisted principally in the disfiguring of the fruit.

The proportion of sound apples on the area first sprayed in going into the orchard was 93.1-3 per cent; in other parts of the orchard the percentage was 84 to 89 per cent, thus showing that the best work in spraying was done when the men were fresh. The

ARRESTED AND TRIED BY PHONE

Farmer Convicted of Assault and Agrees to Pay Fine Over Wire.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Nov. 9.—John Hendricks, a farmer, was arrested, tried and sentenced, and arranged the payment of his fine over the telephone yesterday. Hendricks went to Tarrant and got into a quarrel with the village marshal. He knocked the marshal down and pounded him severely. Then he drove home. Later in the day he was called to the telephone and informed that a warrant had been issued for him on a charge of assault. Hendricks asked the justice who gave him the information to hold the trial over the telephone, as he was too busy digging potatoes to come to town. The justice agreed to the proposition and the trial proceeded. At its conclusion the line was imposed, and Hendricks told the justice he would send the money by the rural mail carrier.

REFUSE TO PART FROM "CO-EDS."

Students at University of Nebraska Oppose Segregation Order.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 9.—Three hundred seniors and juniors of the university of Nebraska met yesterday to protest against a rule calling for the segregation of male and female students. Owing to the temper of the students cool-headed ones prevailed upon them to postpone action for a day or two. Chancellor Andrews yesterday ordered two male students to change their room from a boarding house in which are a number of "co-eds," under penalty of expulsion from the university. The men threaten to obtain an injunction if the chancellor attempts to carry out his decree, and the student body is supporting them.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON VI, FOURTH QUARTER, INTER NATIONAL SERIES, NOV. 11.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xxvi, 36-50. Memory Verses, 38, 39—Golden Text, Luke xlii, 42—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1906, by American Press Association.]

The ever memorable service in the Passover room seems to have concluded by the singing of a hymn, after which they went out over the brook Cedron to the Mount of Olives, reminding us of David, who, persecuted by his son Absalom, fled across the same brook, weeping as he went (2 Sam. xv, 30). Jesus, the Son of David, went forth because of the hatred of His son Israel (Ex. iv, 22, 23). As they walked He again foretold His death and resurrection and said that on that night they would all forsake Him, according to Zech. xiii, 7. Peter said that the others might fall in their faithfulness, but he never would, and even after our Lord said that Peter would deny Him three times Peter said he would die with Him before he would deny Him (verses 30-35). Poor, boastful, self-reliant, deceitful and desperately wicked human heart, thou art worthy only of a vote of "no confidence in the flesh" (Phil. iii, 3), and the only thing we can truly say of the self life in any of us is, "I know that in me—that is, in my flesh—dwelleth no good thing" (Rom. vii, 18). So long as we flatter self or think well of self or trust in self it is evident that we know neither ourselves nor the Lord, for when once we have seen the king our cry will be, Woe is me! I loathe and abhor myself! All my comeliness is turned to corruption! (Isa. vi, 5; Job xlii, 56; Dan. x, 8).

By comparing the account in the four gospels we learn that, having entered the garden, He said to the disciples, "Pray that ye enter not into temptation; sit ye here while I go and pray yonder" (verse 36; Luke xlii, 40). Then He took the favored three, Peter and James and John, leaving the others, and, saying to the three, "My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death; tarry ye here and watch with me." He went a little farther and kneeled down and fell on His face on the ground and prayed to His Father that if it were possible this cup might pass from Him, yet yielding Himself absolutely to the Father's will, for it was His meat to do the Father's will, and He could always and truly say, "I delight to do Thy will, O my God" (John iv, 34; Ps. x, 2-8). Luke tells us that He was in an agony and prayed earnestly, and that His sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground (Luke xxii, 42-44), and that an angel from heaven strengthened Him. The writer of the epistle to the Hebrews says by the Spirit that He offered up prayers and supplications, with strong crying and tears, unto Him that was able to save Him from death and was heard (Heb. v, 7).

Matthew and Mark tell us that He prayed three times, returning to His disciples after each prayer, only to find them asleep, and to boastful Peter he said: "What! Could ye not watch with me one hour? Watch and pray that ye enter not into temptation. The spirit, indeed, is willing, but the flesh is weak." What a picture of human weakness even in the redeemed we have in these three disciples, who in the presence of His transfiguration glory were heavy with sleep and in the presence of this great agony actually slept! In Luke xxii, 45, perhaps referring to the eight or possibly to all, for Luke does not mention His taking Peter, James and John apart from the others, it is said that He found them sleeping for sorrow. What a comfort it is that He knoweth our frame and remembereth that we are dust, and that like as a father pitieth his children so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him (Ps. ciii, 13, 14). He knoweth our frame, for He had a mortal body, like ours, sin excepted. He knew hunger and thirst and weariness, for He experienced them all. He could say, "They laid to my charge things that I knew not; reproach hath broken my heart" (Ps. lxxv, 11; xxxviii, 11, 12; lxxi, 20, 21). But much of the power of the devil He knew which we can never know, for He suffered in our stead that which was due to us for sin that we might never suffer it. He bore for us the forsaking of His Father that we might never know what it meant (Ps. xxii, 1). And who can tell the meaning of Gethsemane? Does not His treatment of the disciples suggest stages in the experience of the believer? Many who were truly His were not with Him at all in the garden that night. Eight went part of the way into the garden, three went a little farther, but He left them and went alone. How far can you go with Him? Do not attempt to reply lest you might prove as unwise as Peter.

Concerning Gethsemane and His prayer, I venture to mention what seems to me the best I ever heard or read about it. Physical suffering He would not shrink from, for many of His redeemed have gone through most agonizing deaths for His sake. We cannot think that He shrank from the death on the cross as the sinners' substitute, for to that end He came and to it He steadfastly set His face. But there was a death, the possibility of which was seen in the sweat like drops of blood, from which He prayed to be saved, and He was heard and therefore answered (Heb. v, 7; 1 John v, 14, 15). If the devil, who sought to kill Him at His birth and at other times, could have killed Him in Gethsemane His great work of atonement, on which His heart was set, would have been unfinished within sight of the goal. He would say amen, even to that, if His Father said so. Was there ever such submission?

THREE FACTS

For Sick Women
To Consider

First.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements of the female organs, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

Second.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, inflammation of the female organs, weakness and displacements, regulating the periods perfectly and overcoming their pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing women for childbirth and the change of life.

Third.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT RHEUMATISM

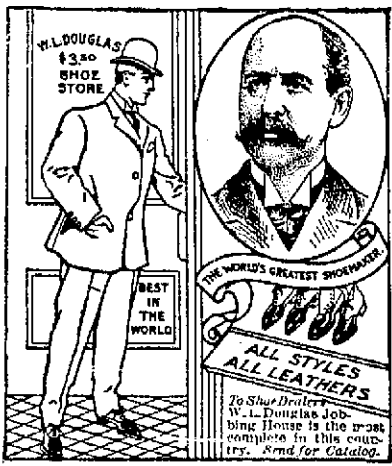

The aches and pains of Rheumatism are only symptoms which may be scattered or relieved with liniments, plasters, blisters, etc., or quipped with opiates. As soon as the treatment is left off, however, or there is any exposure to dampness, or an attack of indigestion, the nagging pains, sore muscles and tender places on the flesh return, and the sufferer finds that he has merely checked the symptoms, while the real cause remains in the system. The cause of Rheumatism is a too acid condition of the blood, brought on by indigestion, chronic constipation, weak kidneys, and a general sluggish condition of the system. Waste matter collects in the system each day which nature intends shall be carried off, but when it is left because of a sluggish condition of the system it sours and forms uric and other acids. These are taken up by the blood and carried to all parts of the body to produce the pains and aches of Rheumatism. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by going down into the blood and driving out the cause and making this life stream rich, pure and healthy. When the blood has been purified and built up by S. S. S. the pains and aches pass away, the muscles become soft and elastic, and Rheumatism driven from the system. Book on Rheumatism and medical advice free.

NEGRO SOLDIERS ARE INDIGNANT

MEN FIRED FROM ARMY SAY ACTION IS UNJUST.

Colored Men Disgraced by President for Brownsville Incident Resent Penalty.

El Reno, Okla., Nov. 9.—Although they have not received officially the order dismissing them from the army the negro soldiers, comprising companies B, C and D of the Twenty-fifth regiment of Infantry, know what is coming and there is gloom in their quarters.

The younger men affect only a careless interest in their plight, but the older soldiers feel the disgrace keenly. Some of them discuss the Brownsville occurrence for which they are to suffer with anger.

"We'd better belong to the English army," remarked yesterday one who has been in service fifteen years. "They wouldn't treat us this way."

"That's right," put in an old non-commissioned officer, "they don't punish a fellow for the bad things another does. It isn't a square deal. Don't the law say a man must be guilty before he can be punished?"

Believe Outsiders Did It. "They know all of us couldn't be guilty, but we all have got to face the music and it's a hard pill for me to take. We ain't getting a fair trial."

"I don't believe any of the boys are guilty," said another of the soldiers. "At first all of us old soldiers thought some of the fellows here were in trouble, but you can hardly find one now that does. All of us have tried to find out who it was as well as the officers and can't learn a single thing."

"Well, who do you think did it?" he was asked.

"Outsiders, fellows who didn't belong to Fort Brown at all, and they weren't colored men, either."

Men All in Barracks, One Says. "I don't see how it could have been any of the men of these three companies," said another negro. "Sergeant Sanders was calling the roll of the company when we heard the shots fired at night at Brownsville. Several of us ducked and fell to our knees, thinking the bullets were coming our way. One of the fellows yelled to the sergeant to get down or he'd be shot. He ordered us up and went on with the roll call."

"Every man was there except four, and they were accounted for. It was the same with C and D companies. They were nearly all present at roll call and the absent men were accounted for. The rifles were under guard at the time. I believe that some one else did that shooting."

Eustace Mills, of London, writes to the Express saying that a reward of $500 is offered for a term for a non-flesh diet—a diet including vegetables, plants, cereals, fruits, milk and eggs.

"First Aid" to the Bowels
WHEN Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Headache, Bad Breath, coated Tongue, Belching of Stomach, Gas, or any of these forerunners of indigestion appear, Old Dr. Cascaret wants to be right on the spot in your pocket. Dr. Cascaret guarantees to cure the most obstinate cases of Constipation and Indigestion, without discomfort or inconvenience. His medicine does not gripe nor purge, but exercises naturally the muscles that line the walls of the Intestines and Bowels.

Want of Exercise weakens and relaxes the Bowel-Muscles, just as it weakens Arm and Leg muscles. Old Dr. Cascaret goes directly after these Bowel-Muscles. He wakes them up just as a cold bath would wake up a lazy person. Then he works them (through the nerves) till they get so strong from that Exercise that they don't need any more help to do their duty.

Heavy dinners, late suppers, whiskey, wine or beer drinking, nervous excitement, sudden exposure to cold or heat and a dozen other everyday likelihoods tire the Bowel-Muscles. In such cases a little Cascaret in time is worth fifty dollars worth of Treatment later on, to say nothing of the suffering, discomfort, loss of Business Energy, and loss of Social Sunshine it saves.

New Cure For Rupture

New Scientific Appliance. Always a Perfect Fit—Adjustable to Any Size Person—Easy, Comfortable, Never Slips, No Obnoxious Springs or Pads—Costs Less Than Many Common Trusses—Made for Men, Women and Children.

I Send It on Approval—You Wear It—If You Are Not Satisfied, I Refund Your Money.

I have invented a rupture appliance that I can safely say, by 20 years' experience in the rupture business, is the only one that will absolutely hold the rupture and never slip and yet is cool, comfortable, conforms to every movement of the body without chafing or hurting and costs less than many ordinary trusses. I have put the price so low that any person, rich or poor, can buy, and I absolutely guarantee it. I make it to your order—send it to you—wear it, and if it doesn't satisfy you send it back to me and I will refund your money. That is the fairest proposition ever made by a rupture specialist. The banks or any responsible citizen in Marshall will tell you that is the way I do business—always absolutely on the square.

Here is what Mr. Jas. Britton, a prominent manufacturer of Bethlehem, Pa., writes:

"C. E. Brooks, Esq. Dear Sir:—I have been ruptured six years and have always had trouble with it till I got your appliance. It is very easy to wear, fits neat and snug, and is not in the way at any time, day or night. In fact at times I did not know I had it on. It just adapted itself to the shape of the body and clung to the spot no matter what position I was in. It would be a veritable God-send to the unfortunate who suffer from rupture. If all could procure the Brooks Rupture Appliance and wear it. They certainly would never regret it. My rupture is all healed up and nothing ever did it but your appliance. Jas. Britton."

If you have tried most everything else, come to me. Where others fail is where I have greater success. I will send you my book on Rupture and its Cure, showing my appliance and giving you prices and names of people who have tried it and been cured. It is instant relief when all others fail. Remember I use no salves, no harness, no lies. Just a straight business deal at a reasonable price. C. E. Brooks, 2281 Brooks Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

PREDICT GENERAL WAGE RAISE.
Wall Street Reports Say Railroads and Corporations Will Act.

New York, Nov. 9.—It was said in Wall street yesterday that practically all the great railroad and industrial corporations of the country, the affairs of which are directed from this city, have decided to increase the wages of their employees. It was predicted that the action of the Pennsylvania railroad management in increasing the wages of its army of 165,000 men nearly $12,000,000 would soon be followed by all the important railroad and industrial corporations of the United States. The Standard Oil company has decided to increase the wages of its 60,000 employees in different parts of the United States. The increases will be carried out through the company's subsidiary corporations.

ORDERS TO GET READY.
Board of Public Works to Think About Light Plant.

Mayor Hosey last night instructed the members of the board of public works to begin their preparations for a municipal lighting plant and while the matter will not be taken up at once on account of unfinished work in other departments, the board will think it over.

The clerk was asked to prepare a petition for an appropriation of $500 to pay for the removal of garbage for the remainder of the year and assessment rolls were confirmed for grading the alley between Wallon avenue and Little street, from Lewis to Alliger, and for the new cement sidewalks on Cass street.

MAN KILLS WIFE WITH AWL.
Father Stabs Spouse Seven Times With Children Looking On.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 9.—Walter Yerkes, a prominent resident of Fulmer, Pa., near here, yesterday stabbed and fatally wounded his wife and then committed suicide by shooting himself in the head. Mrs. Yerkes received seven severe stab wounds, a shoemaker's awl being the weapon used.

The killing was witnessed by several children of the couple, who were powerless to assist their mother. Mrs. Yerkes was attending to her household duties when she was attacked by her husband. It is believed Yerkes suddenly became mentally deranged through illness.

FORTY HOURS' DEVOTION.
This morning at 8 o'clock a forty hours' devotional service began at the Precious Blood church under the charge of Rev. Father Constantine, of Cincinnati, who is a noted Sanguinist missionary. The program for the service is as follows:

Friday—Mass at 5:30 a. m.; solemn high mass and procession at 8 a. m.; Precious Blood chapel and benediction and sermon in English at 7:30 p. m.

Saturday—Masses at 5:30 and 7:45 a. m.; high mass at 9 a. m.; the rosary, sermon in English and benediction at 7:30 p. m.

Sunday—Masses at 5:30 and 7:45 a. m.; high mass at 10 a. m.; sermon in German at 2:30 p. m.; sermon in English and solemn close of the forty hours' devotion at 7:30 p. m.

I Can Cure Cancer

At Home Without Pain, Plaster or Operation and I Tell You How, Free.

I Have Proven Cancer Can Be Cured at Home—No Pain, No Plaster, No Knife—Dr. Wells.

I have discovered a new and seemingly infallible remedy for the deadly cancer. I have made some astonishing cures. I believe every person with cancer should know of this marvelous medicine and its wonderful cures, and I will be glad to give full information free to all who write me and tell me about their case.

Peter Keagan, Galesburg, Ill., had cancer of the mouth and throat. Doctors said, "no hope." Mr. Keagan wrote: "It is only a question of a short time—I must die." Today his cancer is healed up and he is well. My marvelous radiated fluid did it. It has other just such cures to its credit. It is saving people every day and restoring them to health and strength. If you have cancer or any lump or sore that you believe is cancer, write today and learn how others have been cured quickly and safely and at very small expense. No matter what your condition may be, do not hesitate to write and tell me about it. I will answer your letter promptly, giving you, absolutely free, full information and proof of many remarkable cures. Address: Dr. Rupert Wells, 1869 Radiol Bldg., St. Louis, Mo.

MINERS GET WAGE ADVANCE.

Bisbee, Ariz., Nov. 9.—All miners employed by mining companies at Bisbee and Tombstone have received notice of a raise in wages to date from November 1st. The scale has been advanced 25 cents a day, all around. Miners now receive $3.75 a day, shaft men $4.25 and first motion hoisting engineers $5.25. The new scale means the payment of half a million dollars more each year by mining companies.

INITIATED BIG CLASS.

Auxiliary to the B. R. T. Added 22 Names to Membership Roll.

Yesterday's meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the B. R. T. was distinguished by the addition of twenty-two names to the membership roll, the largest number of applicants ever admitted to the order at a single meeting before. Among the applicants were three sisters, the Misses Mary, Maggie and Elizabeth Sullivan, and the others were Miss Ida Kosterson and Miss Ethel Henderson and the Mesdames Anna Patton, Lena Ames, Lillian Pittenger, Daisy Miller, Ida Rogers, Mary Tancere, Ora Rice, Mollie Atkins, Cora O'Hare, Martha Lewis, Clara Foster, Jennie Runner, Mattie Fussy, Edith Dill, Bertha Hart and Lula Meyers. These additions brought the membership up to 120 and made the local auxiliary one of the largest in the state. After the lodge exercises the ladies present repaired to the home of the mistress, Mrs. Ella Foster, where they were joined by a number of the B. R. T. members in enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Foster and partaking of a feast prepared by her. The rooms were decorated with the colors of the auxiliary, red, white and green, and presented a most handsome appearance. Musical and literary talent from the ranks of the auxiliary and the brotherhood added to the entertainment and the affair proved to be one of the most enjoyable the ladies ever had.

BIDS FOR STEEL TIES.

Pennsylvania Preparing to Supply the Wooden Ties.

Officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and other large systems are figuring on orders for steel ties to be used next year in the construction of new lines and to replace worn-out wooden ties. Bids for the new steel ties will probably be asked within a short time. The announcement that the Pennsylvania will use more steel ties next year than ever before and the fact that other lines, which heretofore have used wooden ties, only are figuring on orders for steel ties has caused considerable comment in railroad circles.

Just what the contract to be placed by the Pennsylvania will call for has not been announced. It is understood that steel ties are to be used on the construction of branch lines, new cut-offs and on a large portion of the present lines where new ties are needed. At a meeting of the higher officials of the Pennsylvania in Philadelphia recently the question of steel ties was discussed and it is understood that another meeting will be held in the near future. At the conclusion of this meeting bids for steel ties will be asked. Several new steel ties have been tested by the Pennsylvania, and statements made yesterday by the officials here indicated that the kind of tie to be made the standard of the Pennsylvania.

B. & O. TALKS INCREASE.

Only Men in the Transportation Department Will Be Affected.

Unless the policy of the Baltimore and Ohio in advancing the wages of its employees is changed this year the employees will not receive a general increase. When the company was controlled by the Pennsylvania Railroad company the average wages paid the employees of the Baltimore and Ohio were about equal with those of the former company, the increase and decrease being dictated by President A. J. Cassatt. This year the Baltimore and Ohio has adopted a system of its own in advancing the wages of its employees and it is estimated that fully one-half of the men employed by that company have received a substantial increase during the past six months. This plan has been carried out chiefly in the operating department and it is believed that if the company does agree to make further advances it will affect only the trainmen and those employed in the transportation department.

WORK AT STANDSTILL.

Will Be Resumed Soon On the F. W. & S. Traction Line.

Complications over certain right of way privileges has held up the work on the Fort Wayne-Decatur interurban line and until these are settled things will be at a standstill. There remains only about 350 feet of track to be laid, two-thirds of the ties to be spiked and about half the wire to be strung. This work can be completed in about two weeks, weather being favorable, and as the differences on the right of way question are expected to be settled very soon it is a matter of but a short time when cars will be running. The road bed is in excellent condition and will require very little work to put it in first class shape.

ONLY SURVIVOR OF THE BATTLE.

Engineer Peter Carter, of the Pennsylvania, this morning received very gratifying news from Hammond, Ind., concerning his nephew, F. F. Carter, a prominent resident of that city. Mr. Carter was a candidate on the democratic ticket for sheriff of Lake county and was the only candidate on the ticket elected. He received a handsome majority over his opponent on the republican ticket, which attests to his popularity. Mr. Carter has visited his uncle and his sister, Mrs. Henry Blair, of this city, and has many acquaintances here who will be pleased to hear of his success.

CONDUCTOR SUES L. E. & W.

In a shake-up given passenger conductors on the main line of the Lake Erie and Western a week ago, in which eleven of the men were reprimanded and five discharged, A. C. Gable, of Tipton, lost his position. He has retaliated by bringing suit against the company for $50,000 for defamation of character. Gable's discharge was the result of a "spotter" on the road and he claims it was unjust and uncalled for and harms his reputation to such an extent that he is compelled to ask for damages.

SOME MINOR ACCIDENTS.

F. J. Janorschke, a helper in the Pennsylvania copper shop, had the great toe of his left foot crushed by a heavy weight falling upon it yesterday. The injury will keep him from his work for some time. E. C. Stell, of the erecting shop, had his left arm bruised by something falling upon it and L. H. Dorote, of the same shop, had a finger injured and is unable to work as a result.

FIREMEN TO HAVE BIG MEETING.

A. G. Porter lodge, No. 136, B. L. F. & E., will take in a class of fifteen applicants next Thursday evening. If the men can be spared from their work on the road, bringing the membership very near the 800 mark. There will probably be some social feature after the regular lodge exercises, which will induce members to be present who might otherwise not attend.

PROMOTION AT ROLLING MILLS.

Bert Hathway, who has been in the millwright gang at the Rolling Mills, has been given the foremanship of the finishing department. M. H. Hayes, who resigned the position recently, has returned to his home in Marion, Ind. Clarence Parker has taken a position in the millwright gang to fill the vacancy made by Mr. Hathway.

PUTTING ON MORE FIREMEN.

The Pennsylvania will soon put in service a number of new firemen. Some of these men were selected several months ago and put into the shops and freight houses to work until they are needed on the road. That time has arrived and they will be called in as rapidly as possible.

FELL TWENTY FEET.

While oiling the shafting in the Kerr Murray machine shop William Haber, machinist apprentice, lost his balance and fell a distance of twenty feet to the floor. He escaped with nothing more serious than a badly sprained leg and a few bruises.

PAY DAYS TOMORROW.

The employees of the Rolling Mills, Engine Machine works, Kerr Murray's, Fort Wayne Foundry and Machine company and the Fort Wayne iron works will receive their wages tomorrow.

BIG OUTPUT OF IRON.

A new record was made yesterday in the muck department of the Rolling Mills, they having turned out 108,000 pounds of iron in eight hours. The increased output is made possible by the new furnace which was put in operation last Monday.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Earl A. Snyder is a new man at the Pennsylvania store room.
J. D. Detrick is a new man at the Pennsylvania lumber yards.
C. J. Krenger, carpenter at the Kerr Murray plant, is on the sick list.
R. J. Beck, a Rolling mill employee, has gone to Chicago for a short visit.
W. A. Keller, traveling freight agent of the L. E. & W., was in the city today.
E. M. Casker has taken a position with the Bowser company as a salesman.
J. L. Holmes, the Mexico representative of the Bowser company, is in the city.
George Buhr, of the Pennsylvania tank shop, is taking a vacation, which he will spend in Chicago.
W. E. Burke, N. Garwood and E. Hitzman have accepted positions as firemen on the Nickel Plate.
Fireman F. Lebrecht, of the Pennsylvania power house, was absent yesterday on account of sickness.
M. Detrick, conductor, and C. A. Bailey, brakeman, are on the sick list at the Nickel Plate yards.
Wabash engine 1395 was sent to Buffalo today, having received general repairs at the shops in this city.
Machinist Jacob Luley, who had been east doing some work on a steam plant, resumed his duties in the Bass machine shop this morning.

Traveling Engineer A. S. Mead, of the Wabash, is in the city today on business for the company.

Supt. J. C. Sullivan, of the Wabash, spent the night in the city, leaving early this morning for Toledo.

Engineer M. E. Ames, of the G. R. & L., is visiting his mother, who lives in the northern part of New York.

Fred Sosenheimer, formerly of this city, but recently of Pittsburgh, has returned to this city and will reside here permanently.

H. Hofer, W. Wiedke and G. Roche are new employees in the prepayment department of the Fort Wayne Electric works.

Mrs. E. S. Alexander, wife of the Pennsylvania fireman, is getting ready to make a visit with relatives at Dunlirk.

Miss H. I. Craig, sister of Pennsylvania Engineer S. P. Craig, will be the guest of relatives and friends in Chicago next week.

R. Bumbaugh, extra engineer at the Rolling Mills, has resumed work after a short absence on account of sickness.

Wabash Engineer H. A. Belding brought engine No. 835 to the shops this morning. The engine has a broken frame.

George Segerstrom has resumed his work as a hooker at the Rolling Mills after a short visit at his home in Muskegon, Mich.

John Allway, machinist, and Frank Franke, machinist's apprentice, are on the sick list at the Indiana Road Machine works.

W. H. Menze and R. L. Darby, boilermakers at the Bass shops, went to Hartford City this morning to do some repair work on a steam plant.

Grover McKay has taken a position as fireman on No. 6, running at the Rolling mill plant. He came to this city from Muskegon, Mich.

L. F. Cook, stenographer in the Wabash store room office, will go to Logansport tonight to look after some private business.

W. W. Tonges is disabled by an injured finger and sickness keeps O. Miller and C. E. Scheid from their duties in the Pennsylvania shops.

C. H. Sweaters, a machinist's helper, and H. F. Moorman, a boilermaker's helper, are new employees at the Wabash shops.

W. Washburn and H. Lauer, car builders, who have been on the sick list at the east car shops, have reported for duty.

E. Robertson has resigned his position at the Bowser works. He is a painter and failing health has made a change necessary.

The Lake Erie and Fort Wayne railroad is building a brick house at the Rolling mill for the switch engine which is used about the mill yards.

Mrs. J. R. Meuser, wife of the employee at the Pennsylvania planing mills, is very sick and may have to go to the hospital for a surgical operation.

Fireman G. F. Nulf, who was severely injured at Wabash six months ago, has recovered sufficiently to be able to resume work on the road.

G. Lindeman, car builder, is on the sick list at the east car shops. M. A. Weichsfelder is also on the sick list on account of a slight accident.

J. M. Landerberger, manager of the Indiana Road Machine company, has gone to Huron, Ohio, to witness a test of one of the firm's new elevating graders.

A big boring mill is being installed in the Pennsylvania machine shop. The drive wheel lathe, which was recently replaced by a larger one, is to be shipped to Westville soon.

N. W. Iler, a boilermaker's helper, resigned a position at the Pennsylvania shop this morning to go to Danville to work for the Wabash.

The Wabash is about to establish a dispensary at Montpelier, Ohio, which is considered undeniable evidence that the company is determined to make Montpelier a division terminal to the detriment of Ashley.

The last of the Pennsylvania and Nickel Plate two dollar excursions to Chicago, which will be run tomorrow, have every prospect of taking large crowds to the "Windy City."

With the opening of the hunting season tomorrow comes the hunters' rates to nearby points on the Nickel Plate. The rates went into effect today.

Fireman H. M. Ginty, of the Pennsylvania, went to Ann Arbor this morning to witness a foot ball game between the Michigan university team and another college team.

J. McClelland and A. E. Wells, air brake inspectors, have resigned their positions at the Pennsylvania roundhouse and have taken service with the Western Gas works.

H. C. Koorsen, tank inspector at the Pennsylvania roundhouse, painfully mashed the little finger of his left hand yesterday afternoon. The accident will prevent his working for several days.

P. J. Shockey, R. O. Gilbert and G. B. Sullivan, Pennsylvania car builders, who have been assisting inspectors at different points along the line, have returned to their work in this city.

The frequent appearance of George Ford, foreman of the coach department of the Nickel Plate shops at Stony Island, in this city, has given rise to the rumor that he intends to choose a wife from among the belles of Fort Wayne.

Passenger Brakeman C. R. Ewing, of the Nickel Plate, recently married and residing in Ballwin, and his wife were surprised Wednesday by a party of railway friends and their wives and presented with a number of articles.

Among the shipments from the Bass works today were a tubular boiler to the Manhattan Heating and Ventilating company, New York, and some steel tanks to the Eastern Dynamite company, Marquette, Mich.

B. F. Sarver, foreman of the Pennsylvania boiler shop, is deprived of the comforts of home for awhile. His ten-year-old son has the diphtheria and Mr. Sarver cannot go home until quarantine has been lifted from the premises. The lad is very sick.

Henry Poole, the Wabash machinist who had a foot crushed by being run over in the Montpelier yards two or three weeks ago and was taken to the Peru hospital, will not lose the member, as feared. He is getting along nicely. Mr. Poole is well known here.

While excavating for a big sewer on Lafayette street, at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, workmen exhumed a part of an oak walk which had been buried five feet for forty years. Some of the older employees of the shops recall to memory the old walk, which led across a low place of ground covered by water a good portion of the year. There is a fill of four or five feet there now.

WOMAN WANTED TO

ASK WHICH SMITH

THOUGHT HER BROTHER ELECTED "UNBEKNOWNST" TO HIM.

Finds She Is Mistaken as It's a Different William Smith on the Ticket.

A South Wayne woman called up Deputy Clerk John Bueker at the court house this morning and wanted to ask which William Smith had been elected on the democratic ticket as county councilman at large, and when she was informed that the deputy did not know the identity of the man she unhesitatingly herself thus:

"Well, I have a brother named William Smith and I thought maybe he had been elected."

"Was he a candidate?" was asked. "Not as I know of, but I thought he might have been elected anyhow."

Investigation proved, however, that the William Smith in question is a lumber merchant and a resident of Jackson township, and this information is given for the benefit of any of the members of the Smith family who may think that honors are being heaped upon them "unbeknownst."

LAST SERVICE TONIGHT.

The week of prayer as observed by the members of the Third Presbyterian church and their friends has been one of unusual interest and blessing. Five cottage meetings were held last night and the week will close with a service at the church tonight. In the service this evening, brief reports from the services last night will be given, the pastor will preach, and a feature of the meeting will be special music. Mrs. Moffat, Mr. Lang and Mr. Dwyer will sing. The meeting tonight should be the climax of the week. Everybody is welcome.

METHOD IN IT.

The Oldone—Why do you take this awful long walk home every night?
The Youngone—Well, I'm so tired when I reach home that I don't care whether my wife has spoiled the dinner or not.

Mrs. Cora B. Miller Makes a Fortune

Says She Will Now Give Away $10,000 Worth of Medicine to Women.

Until a few years ago Mrs. Cora B. Miller lived in a manner similar to that of thousands of other poor women of the average small town and village. She now resides in her own palatial brown stone residence, and is considered one of the most successful business women in the United States.

Several years ago Mrs. Miller learned of a mild and simple preparation that would readily cure female diseases and piles. After curing herself and many of her friends she was besieged by so many women needing the treatment that she decided to furnish it to those who might call for it. She started with only a few dollars capital, and the remedy, possessing true and wonderful merit, producing marvelous cures when doctors and other remedies failed, the demand grew so rapidly she was several times compelled to seek larger quarters. She now occupies one of the city's largest office buildings, which she owns, and almost one hundred clerks and stenographers are required to assist in this great business.

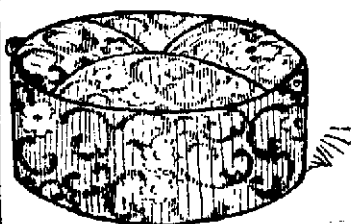

Million Women Use It.

More than a million women have used Mrs. Miller's Specific, and no matter where you live, she can refer you to ladies in your own locality who can and will tell you of the benefits of this marvelous remedy. It really cures women's diseases. Despite the fact that Mrs. Miller's business is very extensive, she is always willing to give aid and advice to every suffering woman who writes to her. She is a generous, good woman and has decided to give away to women who have never used her medicine $10,000.00 worth absolutely FREE.

Every woman suffering with leucorrhoea or whitish discharges, ulcerations, displacements or falling of the womb, profuse, scanty or painful periods, uterine or ovarian tumors or growths, also pains in the head, back and bowels, bearing-down feelings, nervousness, creeping feelings up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, or piles from any cause, should sit right down and send her name and address to Mrs. Cora B. Miller, Box 2256, Kokomo, Ind., and receive by mail (free of charge) a complete and reliable box of her marvelous Specific; also her valuable book, "How I Cure Female Diseases and Piles."

Remember this offer will not last long for thousands and thousands of women who are suffering will take advantage of this generous means of getting cured. So if you are ailing, do not suffer another day, but send your name and address to Mrs. Miller for the book and medicine before the $10,000.00 worth is all gone.

ton avenue, is confined to her home
by sickness.

D. W. Kane, of this city, leaves tonight on a business trip to Chicago and Bloomington.

Dr. W. O. Gross has gone to Indianapolis to deliver a lecture at the medical college there.

The members of the Knights of Columbus will give a dance in the hall on next Tuesday evening.

A freight car on the Fort Wayne-Indianapolis through service broke down at Tipton yesterday and delayed traffic for some time.

The tenth annual ball of the Plumbers' union No. 166 will be given in the Saengerbund hall on the evening of Thursday, November 22.

Yesterday Dr. Macbeth amputated the left index finger of Dr. A. K. Hammond's hand, in which septic poisoning had set in from a cut.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore Schmidt, of this city, have returned from a well-deserved trip to the east and are now at home on West Main street.

C. Ralph Willson, of Hoagland avenue, will entertain the Young People's society of Plymouth Congregational church at his home this evening.

Prosecutor Daniel B. Niede has gone to Durham, N. H., where he will rejoin his wife. They expect to return to Fort Wayne in about two weeks.

The members of the United Commercial Travelers will give a dance in the Tanager dancing academy this evening to which all traveling men of the city are invited.

General Manager C. D. Emmons, of the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company, has gone to Chicago to open bids for the company's new power house in Lexington, Ky.

Warren Sweet, of this city, who holds a number of patents on washing machines, was in Lagrange this week endeavoring to interest capital in a factory proposition for that city.

Tuesday evening the Fort Wayne Medical society met at the Lutheran hospital and listened to an address by Dr. Myers, of Bloomington. Following the address a light luncheon was served.

The Young Men's society of the Church of the Precious Blood will give a polo party in the school hall at the corner of Fourth and Andrew streets on Thursday evening, November 22.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. August
Korn, of 1125 Sweeney avenue, celebrated her forty-third birthday anniversary by inviting forty-three friends to spend the afternoon and take supper with her.

Frank J. Laurent, formerly of this city, has been elected to the treasurership of Blackford county, and also received the greatest number of votes of any one on the democratic ticket in that county.

This evening the Woman's Mela-nary society of the Wayne Street M.E. church will serve supper in the church parlors. A musical and literary program will be rendered by members of the society.
